IDEAL MEMORIAL DAY

Good Weather and the Longest Parade for Many Years Under Auspices of Charles Ward Post

Monday was an ideal day for the sturdily beside his father for the en-observance of Memorial day, as the sun was bright and the east wind cool, making a most agreeable combination.

observance of Memorial day, as the sun was bright and the east wind cool, making a most agreeable combination. Members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., assisted by the American Legion and the Boy Scouts decorated the graves of the soldier dead in the various cemeteries of the city. The exercises at St. Mary's Church at the Lower Falls were under the direction of Commander William M. Mick and included an address by Rev. N. Everett Hansom, pastor of the Lower Falls were under the church yard, flowers were thrown into the Charles River nearby, in memory of the salior dead. At the Winchest street cemetery, Rev. G. G. Phips made an address.

At noon the veterans were the guests of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands at a luncheon given in the chapel of the Congregationachurch of that village.

Atter lunch the various organizations taking part in the parade formed in line and marched through Walnut street to the Newton Cemetery. The parade included a detail of police, Mayor Childs as chief marshal, his aides, members of the city government, the Elks Co. C. Walles Ward Post, American Legion, Fife and Drum corps of the Knights of the Holy Ghost of St. Bernard's Church, and Hength was much longer than in previous years, due to the fact that over 200 Boy Scouts were in line.

DR. BARTON RETIRES

Announcement was made at the Congregational Council held this week at Omaha, that Rev. Dr. James L. Barton of Newton Centre, had been appointed secretary emeritus of the American Board of Foreign Missions after a service of 33 years as secretary of that body. Rev. Dr. Barton has served the Congregational Board of Missions for 40 years. As chairman of the Near East Relief since its establishment in 1915, he has become internationally known for his administrative ability. He has been at times adviser to the United States Government and has been referred to as an "unofficial ambassador," especially during the World War.

has been referred to as an "unofficial ambassador," especially during the World War.

Rev. Dr. Barton was born in Vermont and was educated at Middlebury College and Hartford Theological Seminary. In 1885 he was appointed by the American board as a missionary in Harpoot, Turkey, where he served until 1892. During the latter part of his work in Turkey he was president of Euphrates College in Harpoot.

He was present at the Lausanne Near East convention in 1921. He was at this time a member of the President's "Near East Emergency Commission." In this convention he was the representative of several benevolent and humanitarian organizations having work in Turkey.

TOO MANY DRIVES?

It is evident that Newton people are feeling over-burdened by the numerous campaigns for funds of the last year, yet how many of us are really poorer because we have responded to these many appeals? Beneath our good-natured (some not so good-natured) grumblings and complaints are we not all proud to live in a city where so much is done for the care of the sick, the welfare of our boys and girls, and the social and philanthropic relief of needy families?

Modern efficiency in methods of obtaining and disbursing charitable funds robs us perhaps of the personal "blessedness of giving." We feel too often that we lose the dollars we have given away. We forgot too immediately the causes we have generously helped. A little study and investigation often brings to us again this joy of giving.

For some time, through the columns of the Graphic, we have kept before you our Welfare Bureau Campaign for $10,000. Your attention has been drawn to the splendid work—this great gift of service—which this Newton organization is doing for our city. We believe, however, its pressing need has not quite reached your hearts for only $6500.00 of the $10,000.00 has been given. We go confidently on hoping that you will answer one more appeal and find joy and satisfaction in so doing. For some time, through the columns

DOGS STILL BITING

The number of victims of dogs, ugly or mad, (that is the dogs, not the victims) although to get bitten by a dog is enough to make anyone ugly, continues to grow in Newton. If this menace continues, it may be necessary to adopt the rule used in England, where dogs are either kept restrained, or properly muzzled. Saturday Philip McAdams of 36 Roslyn road, Waban, was attacked by a dog owned by Seymour Ellis of 551 Chestnut street. Monday a dog owned by Sarah Burke of 99 Faxon street bit Abraham Rubin of 28 Beach street, Nonantum. The animals were ordered restrained and examined by Dr. Boutelle.

MANY CANOES CAPSIZE

More than the usual number of inexperienced canoeists are attempting to navigate the frail craft on the Charles at Auburndale this season. Over twenty canoes overturned on Sunday, and Memorial Day saw a number of others turning turtle. Fortunately no drowning occurred and most of the awkward canoeists managed to reach shore without assistance. Patrolman Sanderson of the Metropolitan police rescued two young men on Sunday; Serg. Gardner and Patrolman Roche pulled three poor paddlers out of the water, one novice was hauled out of the Charles by Patrolman Austin, and Patrolman Sheehan had some job "gaffing" a 200 pound whale. Perhaps some day would-be canoeists will have to pass a test, even as do autoists.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

Aliston Town Team Monday afternoon by a score of 10 to 1. Brown, who was in the box for the Pals, held the visitors to three hits. Lyman was on the receiving end for the Pals and played a good game.

NEWTON WINS TWO

Newton high gained two Suburban league victories by defeating Brookline, 7 to 2, last Saturday and Rindge, 10 to 3 on Wednesday.

A big sixth inning in which they knocked Sonny Sondheim, Brookline's best twirler, off the mound was the big factor in the win over the Wealthy Towners. Riley was in the box for Newton and he held the visitors to four hits, two of which were made by Cannon, Brookline third baseman. He passed but one and fanned 7.

Two runs came in the fourth when White doubled, went to third on Proctor's sacrifice and scored on de-Mille's hit. The latter also counted. In the sixth White's second hit, hits by Proctor and deMille and Andres timely double counted three. Andres added the fourth for the inning later. In the eighth another counter brought the total to seven.

In the eighth another counter brought the total to seven.
Wednesday afternoon at Russell Field, Cambridge, Rindge was defeated 10 to 3 in a game marked by fine pitching by Don Wilson. For six trames the Newton twirler held the opposing batters hitless, runless and scoreless but after that he went into the air passing three in succession and Rindge collected its three runs.

Upper Falls Loses
Sunday afternoon at the Upper Falls playground the Upper Falls team was defeated 8 to 4 by the North Dorchester Town team. In the third and fourth frames the visitors bunched hits to score three and four runs respectively and added another in the seventh. Upper Falls went runless until the seventh when they scored a single tally, one in the eight and two in the ninth brought their total to four. Hanscom and Russell were in the box for Upper Falls and Mahoney, Northeastern University catcher, behind the bat.

Dewing Strokes Exeter To Win Dewing Strokes Exeter To Win Local sport followers will be interested to know that a Newton lad had a great deal to do with helping Exeter to a double victory over Middlessx school last Saturday. The Dewing, who stroked the Exeter second four-oared crew on Bateman's Pond at Concord, is a younger brother of i.ed Dewing, former Newton high athlete. The winners had an easy time of it, winning the half-mile race by three lengths after taking the lead from the start.
Hill and Johnson Win Title

Andover team the edge. The game was a pitchers battle between Murphy and O'Connor of St. John's and although the Danvers teams twirler held the victors to four hits and fanned nine Murphy was airtight when hits meant runs. He fanned but one batter and was found for seven safeties. In the eighth and nint he bore down and retired the visitors in order ter taking the lead from the start. Hill and Johnson Win Title Malcolm Hill and Henry L. Johnson added another title to their list last Saturday afternoon by taking the Massachusetts tennis doubles championship in a five set match on the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club courts. They were opposed by Walter Weld and George Abbott, defending titleholders. The match was scheduled to start at 3:30 but was postponed until nearly six as Hill was playing for the Harvard freshman team of which he is captain, against the Yale yearlings. In the title match the defending champions won the first two sets in closely fought play, 6—4 and 9—7. The new champions proved their gameness and ability by taking the next three 7—5; 6—3, 6—1. In the final set with the count 3—0, 40—15 Hill wrenched his wrist and attempted to continue but finally was forced to retire for treatment. After being fixed up he returned and played a brilliant game until the finish.

The 19-year old youth played in eleven sets during the day. Against Yale, although his team was beaten 5 matches to 4, he won his singles match against the Blue leader, 4—6, 6—4, 6—3 and then paired with Trask was a big factor in winning from the some phenomenal fielding and is bat-ting for better than 360. ## ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, addressed the Worcester Safety Council at the Hotel Bancroft in that city recently. He said, "The time has come for every official in charge of a police department to put his foot down on all fixing. When this is done, and not until then, will automobiles cease mowing down the citizents on our highways. There must be a strict and impartial enforcement of the law against all motorists who are driving recklessly by intersections of streets without slowing down, and through streets crowded with children and other pedestrians. Many cases have been called to my attention where police officers have been sent out to apprehend these careless and reckless drivers, only to have their reports torn up by their superior officers in station houses, after friends had called and fixed them."

These remarks of Registrar Goodwin whose own grandchild was killed by an automobile recently, should be of a particular interest in Newton at this time because of the opposition which has developed among some to the re-appointment of Chief of Police Burke. The Chief has been re-appointed by Mayor Childs and his name will be submitted to the aldermen for confirmation at the meeting on June 6th.

Canoe Marathon Won by Higgins
George Higgins of the Crescent Club was the winner of the fifth annual canoe marathon from the Concord St.
bridge to the Moody street bridge on the Charles the holiday afternoon. He was closely pushed all the way by Gerald Mosher, also of the Crescent club and last year's winner. The first fitteen to finish were: George Higgins, Crescent; G. Mosher, Crescent; J. C.
Purcell, Riverside; F. Bingham, Samoset; X. Colon. Crescent; A. C. Liscomb, Samoset; W. Stockman, Omicron; W. Motte, Dedham; F. Lane, Dedham; A. Ranco, Riverside; E.
Hann, Omicron; R. E. Butterworth, Ilkuina; J. Cappozzi, Dedham; H. Bar-The principal reason for the opposi-tion having developed against the Chief is—"because he will not 'fix' cases." He has made it a practice not to override his subordinates when they arrest persons for violating the automobile laws.

Newton Runner-up At Harvard
The Newton high tennis team was tied for second place in the final team standing of the Harvard interscholastic tennis tournament which ended Tuesday. In the final match Frank Shields defeated Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of the New Prep school for the individual title. The defeat of the Waban youth was somewhat of a surprise as Johnson won the Yale tournament a few weeks ago. The team title went to Exeter with Columbia Grammar school which Shields attends, Newton and the New Preparatory tied for the second place. It is rather unfortunate that the authorities in charge of the tourney make the high school teams play in the same class or division with the preparatory schools. The younger boys in such a case do not have a chance to show their real ability against the older and more experienced players.
Some tourneys are divided into two classes with the high and prep schools competing in their own class making a fairer test of playing ability.

Golf Team Wins Another they arrest persons for violating the automobile laws.

At least one person opposing the re-appointment is quite "peeved" with the Chief because the latter refused to "fix" the case of a certain individual arrested for driving while under the influence of liquor. This person, not a resident of Newton, is a man of wealth, and moves in exclusive society. When he was unfortunate enough to be arrested while driving a car after having imbibed well, but not wisely, according to the testimony of the arresting officer, some individuals went to extreme measures to exculpate him from the charge. He was found guilty in the Newton Court, but because the arresting officer changed his testimony, the case against the alleged offender had to be dropped. Incidentally he obtained several times more undesirable notoriety than does the usual person who is convicted of "drunken driving."

When men prominent in communities endeaver to influence other man.

"drunken driving."

When men prominent in communities endeavor to influence other men appointed to enforce the law, so that the latter will be derelict in their duty, or will be so partial that they will allow those who have a "pull" to escape punishment, while those less fortunate must take their medicine, is it to be wondered at that there seems to be a growing disrespect for Law and Order? If there is to be an appreciable lessening in the terrible toll of those killed and maimed because of drunken and reckless automobile drivers, the law must be enforced impartially. A wealthy drunken driver is just as much a menace as a poor drunken driver, if those "with a drag" can escape punishmen when they yields the law if deep wear. Martin Gets Homer and Triple Kenneth Martin, Belmont Hill ichool baseball star, strode to the date five times in the game with Dumnar academy on Wednesday which he Dummar team won 14 to 6. Martin connected for a home run and a tripe on two of his trips and drew three walks on the other occasions. Ertors by the Belmont team were respossible for their defeat. drunken driver. If those "with a drag" can escape punishment when they violate the law, it does not require much imagination to visualize the gradual breaking down of the efficiency of our police departments. In the opinion of some, the reason Chief Burke should not continue to hold office is because of his persistent refusal to be "accommodating" to the would-be "fixers." According to the principles enunciated by Registrar Goodwin, the Chief should be commended, rather than condemned for stubbornly refusing to "make fish of some, and flesh of others."

Patrolmen Bailey and Foley rudely interrupted a little game of poker at the Newton Highlands playground on Sunday afternoon. When the policemen broke in on the sport which is not authorized to be played on Newton's playgrounds, four young men were engaged in the popular but illegal game of chance. As the officers approached the quartet started to various approached the quartet started to various Another youth, who was a mere spectator saw no reason for "hot-footing," so he remained, and was seized by Patrolman Bailey, Foley pursued the galloping gamblers, and succeeded in catching one of them. Troops All Ready for the Seventh An-nual Rally On June 4th, 3 O'clock, At Claffin Field

At Claffin Field

Every Scout and official in Norumbega Council is looking forward with great anticipation to the biggest and best Rally which they have ever held in Norumbega Council—that's the goal they have ahead for their Seventh Annual Rally, which will be held on Saturday, June 4th, at Claffin Field, Newtonville, at 3 o'clock. For the past weeks Scouts have been preparing for the events in Fire Lighting Without Matches, Semaphore and Morse Signalling, Knot-tying, First Aid Contest, Water Boiling and Drilling, which will be the order of the day. In addition to these competitive events, the Sea Scouts will put on an exhibition which they have kept shrouded in great mystery and which promises to be an eye-opener. Skipper Harris has been drilling his Ship steadily and hard for this affair. There will also be a demonstration by the Council Drum and Bugle Corps, under Drum Majors Nichols and Schroeder. Some Troops, after the drill event, are going to put on special demonstrations of an attractive nature.

The Council is going to form in Districts at the Old Gymnasium at 2:45, when 'Assembly will be sounded and they will march on the Field with music sounding and colors flying. This formation is an innovation, for the officers of the Council felt the Rally this year should have as many new features as possible. Besides, this system starts the Rally off very neatly and in a clean-cut manner. and in a clean-cut manner.

and in a clean-cut manner.

There will be a color ceremony, following taking of attendance and an inspection by Major A. B. Hitchcock and another Army officer. Following these, the Council will pass in review before Acting-President Marcy, Honorary Commissioner James C. Irwin, Commissioner Woodbridge and members of the Executive Board of the Norumbega Council.

The Pally will begin immediately members of the Executive Board of the Norumbega Council.

The Rally will begin immediately after pass in review with a demonstration by the Drum and Bugle Corps and then the competitive events will proceed. This year programs will be issued to all spectators, so that they may know the events and participants, and may also keep a full record of winners themselves.

The Sea Scouts will not parade, but, under Skipper Morgan Harris, will do guard duty, take tickets, supervise ushers provided by Troop I, Newtonville, and generally assist in making the Rally run smoothly and rapidly. According to Deputy Commissioner Gilcrease, who is Clerk of the Course, plans have been laid so that long, dragging waits will be avoided and the Rally should be over shortly after five o'clock.

five o'clock.

Tickets to the Rally have been given to all Scouts and Scout Officials, but they may also be had on application at Council Headquarters, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville, any afternoon. All children must be accompanied by adults, according to Marshall I. Stone, Chairman of the Rally Committee.

Scouts Very Active On Memorial Day

Scouts Very Active On Memorial Day
Memorial Day proved to be an active one for the Scouts of Norumbega Council, for they began at ten o'clock in the morning by placing flowers on Scout graves and ended up with a share in the parade in the afternoon.
At ten o'clock Memorial Day morning Mate A. C. Dinsmore, of Ship 13 met the following Scouts at the main gate of the Newton Cemetery:
Scouts Quimby, John Kenngott and Robert Kenngott, of Troop 1; Scouts
Fred King, Gilbert Wales and Lauren Perry of Troop 7; Scouts Sam
Douglas and Robert McLellan of Troop 10; Scouts Temple, Hayford and Lewis of Troop 11; and Seascouts Thorogood and Clark of Ship 13.

They were guided about by a man

Total 194 Scouts and 12 officers. After the Parade, the Scouts were guests of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., at the Armory. The Scouts, led by Eagle Scout Arnold Nichols, gave the G. A. R., Spanish War and World War Veterans the regular Scout yell with a vim. Commissioner Woodbridge spoke briefly and well, expressing the thanks of the Scouts for the invitation to the dinner and their appreciation of the honor. After the affair was over, Adjutant Gilcrease lined up the District and Mr. Woodbridge dismissed it Troop by Troop, thanking them for their service.

EDITORIAL

We never witness the Memorial Day parade in this city without axperiencing regrets that the old time military drill at the High School was abolished. As a member of that battalion at one time, we have personal experience of its value in discipline, in inculcating obedience to constituted authority (something badly needed nowadays) and in the advantages of co-operative effort.

The veterans of Charles Ward Post of the Grand Army are showing their age at each successive Memorial Day. Only fifteen of a membership of thirty-two were able to take part in the usual exercises of the day.

Congratulations to the Masonic fraternity of Newton in paying off the debt on the Masonic Temple.

FLYE-CANNON

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Townsend Cannon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Madison M. Cannon, and Mr. William Mitchell Flye of Brookline, took place Wednesday evening at the Cannon home on Hancock street, Auburndale, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul S. Phalen of the West Newton Unitarian church. Miss Miriam F. Macdonald of Quincy of the class of 1929 at Wellesley was maid of honor and the Misses Christine Lane of Hingham and Miriam C. Eaton of Auburdale were the bridesmaids.

Two children, Virginia B. White of Bridgewater and Emily C. Wright of Auburndale were the flower girls.

Mr. Donald Fairweather of Newtonville, B. U., '26, was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Madison Mott Cannon, Jr., and Delano Chaney Cannon, both of Auburndale; Samuel Whiting of Hingham, Harvard, '26, and Stuart Tinkham of Taunton, Brown.'25.

A program of nuptial music was furnished by members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. After Sept. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Flye will be "at home" at 54 Pinewood road, Needham. The bride is a graduate of the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts. The bridegroom was graduated from Dummer Academy with the class of 1925.

Commencement opens on Saturday evening when the senior dance will be held. On Sunday afteroon the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Henry Hitt Crane, pastor of the Center Methodist Epsicopal Church at Malden. Next Monday will be alumnae day and the occasion of the annual alumnae luncheon. In the evening the junior class play will be presented.

On Tuesday class day exercises will be held in the afternoon and in the evening the seniors will present "She Stoops to Conquer." On next Wednesday the final recital will be given in the afternoon and in the evening graduation exercises will be held, with an address by Rev. Boynton Merrill. There also will be an exhibition of horseback riding on that day.

Nineteen scouts and five officers of Troop 22, Newtonville, went on a supper hike to Echo Bridge on Tuesday last. Ten of these girls rode their bicycles while the others hiked over the road. After supper they explored the historic neighborhood, played games and told stories around the fire.

TREASURER 25 YEARS

On Thursday evening last Mr. Roland F. Gammons was given a surprise visit at his home by the Trustees of the West Newton Savings Bank and presented with a very beautiful silver service in recognition of his having completed 25 years as Treasurer of that Bank. Mr. Gammons has been connected with the Bank since 1898 and in April 1902 was elected Treasurer. Under his supervision the Bank has steadily grown to a total strength of over $4,100,000 and is now one of the strongest banks in the city of Newton. Mr. Gammons is well known in the City, besides in his capacity as Treasurer of the above Bank, through his connection with various real estate developments, and is directly responsible for the many of Newton's beautiful residences.

Announcement was made of the formation of a new Kiwanis Club at Laconia, New Hampshire, and a congratulary telegram was sent to it.

Will White, manager of Norumbega Park told of the plans being made for a big entertainment which will begiven at that popular resort on September 9 by the Newton Kiwanians. James P. Gallagher reported for the committee which is arranging details for the observation of "All Kiwanis Night" on June 6th. On this night Kiwanians all over the country will hold special meetings. The meeting at Newton will be attended by large delegations of Kiwanians from surrounding places.

Warren T. Hollis, Jr., who leaves this evening for Memphis, Tennessee, where he will represent Newton as its delegate at the International Kiwanis Convention told of the arrangements which have been made for the journey of the New England delegates to that city. Mr. Hollis, who has worked faithfully as secretary of the Newton Kiwanis Club, was accorded a rousing ovation.

The meeting was enlivened by an exchange of good natured repartee between James P. Gallagher, the club humorist.

—Mrs. Hovey of Plainfield street entertained friends at bridge.

—Mrs. John Gould of Boylston street will spend the summer abroad.

—Miss Edith Lamont graduated this week from Miss Katherine Gibb's School.

—Miss Sabin sails shortly for Europe where she expects to spend the summer.

Newton Corner close on Wednesday afternoons during the summer months — this has been advocated in past years, but lack of co-operation between the merchants has made it impossible to have general observation of this rule. In other cities and towns throughout Massachusetts this closing feature is generally observed, and the leading merchants of Newton have been extremely interested in the matter. Posters are now in evidence in many of the stores, and others will be distributed at the monthly meeting.

HESSLER-STUBBS

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Dow Stubbs, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Raymond Stubbs of Centre street, Newton, to Mr. William F. Hessler of Boston, formerly of Huntington, Long Island, took place last Saturday evening in Eliot Church, which was attractively decorated in green and white for the occasion. While the guests were assembling Mr. Everett E. Truette gave an appropriate musical program. Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector of Grace Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was in white chiffon and satin, pearl trimmed with duchess lace. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Stubbs of Cambridge, was matron of honor, Miss Jane Baker of Dedham was maid of honor and the Misses Elizabeth A. Robinson of Detroit, Mich., and Ethel Ranney of Cleveland, Ohio, were bridesmaids. They were all gowned in peach colored chiffon.

Dr. Edward Ross Proctor of Bing-were all gowined in peach colored chirfon.

Dr. Edward Ross Proctor of Binghamton, N. Y., was the best man and the ushers were Prof. John E. Mac-Craken of New York University, Mount Vernon, N. Y., and Messrs. Joseph Stubbs of Cambridge and Frank R. Stubbs, Jr., of Newton, brothers of the bride.

The bride graduated from Dana Hall, in 1921, and from Smith College in 1925. She also received a degree from the University of Grenoble, France, and also studied at the Sorbonne.

Assistant District Attorney Volpe attempted to show that Sisson's store bore a reputation as a "moonshine joint." Volpe and some of the defence witnesses engaged in acrimonious retorts. The testimony of witnesses for the prosecution "that they could see Sisson standing in the doorway of his store, from their position in front of the Newton Opera House," caused the jury to make a visit to the scene.

A touring car, the property of Luigi Casella of Mechanic street, Waltham, was stolen from near Norumbega Park on Monday night. It was found on Tuesday night at Waban.

A disturbance on Waltham street, West Newton, on Tuesday after midnight, caused residents to telephone to police headquarters. Patrolmen Murphy and Dargon went to the scene of the uproar and arrested Kenneth Conroy of Shepherd street, Cambridge, and Wallace Boyd of Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. They were charged with drunkeness and disturbance. The pair were standing alongside an automobile and had been waging a loud argument with two girl companions. In court Wednesday each was fined $10 for drunkenness. The disturbance charges were dropped as the persons telephoning about the noise could not be obtained as witnesses.

morial day was a great day in the nation's calendar and urged his hearers to carry out the spirit of the day into all the other days of the year.

President Sinclair Weeks of the Board of Aldermen called attention to the fact that this country had gained its independence by the War of the Revolution, its freedom of the seas, from the War of 1812, preserved the union by the Civil War, had extended its boundaries by the Indian Wars and had saved civilization by the Spanish

The poem entitled "One Thing I Do" by Dr. Wells, in part, follows:
When glittering charms of golden wealth
Would turn his feet aside,
When crafty visions brought by stealth
The garlandings of pride,
He thrust away the tempting crown,
The promises untrue,
And answered, "I cannot come down, the Young Man of Gaillee, the su-preme leader of the young life of the world, Francis E. Clark has won his way to God's right hand, and from his harvest of hearts, rests with the King.

"But the legions are afield! His name is upon their lips. And like a trumpet on ahead a voice that death can never hush calls down from Heaven's bettlements. Heaven's battlements:
"'For Christ and the Church-March on!""

And answered, "I cannot come down, For this One Thing I do."

When Ease enticed his weariness
And bade him rest awhile;
When Doubt, the quaking sorceress,
Beset him with her guile;
When Slander, hid behind a mask,
Attacked with venomed sting,
He answered, "I've a glorious task,
And I must do This Thing."

When dear delights of lovely home, And scenes that fondest are, Forbade his wistful heart to roam On toilsome journeys far, These pleasures he was strong to leave,

Though all his being bled;
I have a purpose to achieve,
I do One Thing," he said.

When gray Cassandras told their fears,
When even friends were dumb,
When iterant tasks of fifty years
Grew dully wearisome,
Amid the calm, amid the storm,
Whatever skies might be,
"I have a duty to perform,
On Thing I do," said he.

And still, though many years have rolled
Their devious night and day,
By that one high resolve controlled
He treads a steadfast way;
And still above his silvered head
His banner never furled,
And written on it, white and red,
"The Young Hearts of the World."

Ah, Francis Clark, whom we acclaim
For this One Thing you do.
Who holds himself to one great aim,
Holds God to one aim, too;
Holds God to one, and Christ to one,
And all the choirs that sing,
"Well done, thou faithful one, well done!"

And that is their One Thing.

Mrs. Gertrude Farley, soprano, of Auburndale, sang two solos, "In Heavenly Love Abiding" and "This Is My Father's Home." Honorary pallbearers, all executive officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, were: Clarence Hamilton, Stanley Vandersall, Carroll Wright, Carleton Sherwood, Alvin Shartle and Edward P. Gatas

MRS. RICE DEAD

Mrs. Effle Howe Rice, the wife of Mr. C. Edward Rice, died last Friday at her home on Adena road, West Newton, following an illness of several months.

Mrs. Rice was born in Thetford, Vt., and was 42 years of age. She received her education in the schools of Hanover and at Thetford Academy. She has been actively connected with St. John's Episcopal Church of Newtonville and the Rebeccas. Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by three young daughters, Helen Crandall Rice, Elizabeth Howe Rice and Janet Marion Rice.

Funeral services were held from her late home on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Raymond Lang, rector of St. John's Church, officiating, and the burial was in Newton Cemetery.

The wedding of Miss Grace Garcelon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Garcelon and Mr. Marshall C. Price of Boston, will take place at Channing church tomorrow afternoon

A social event of the week was the reception given on Wednesday evening by Assistant Atty. General Ralph Wilkinson Stearns and Mrs. Stearns at their charming home on Watertown street. The occasion was the fifth aniversary of their wedding and about two hundred guests were entertained during the evening.

two hundred guests were entertained during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stearns were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Stearns' son John Woodbury Lane and by their small daughter Mary Woodbury Stearns. Many beautiful flowers were received and numerous gifts and letters of congratulation.

Refreshments were served and there was music during the evening. Guests were present from the Newtons and surrounding towns.

The Williams Kindergarten had visitors' day and a sale for the Library fireplace fund, on Thursday, May 26th. The children sang songs and played games, repeating the Maypole dance given at the health rally day. For the sale the children had built a store of blocks and made small useful articles which they sold, playing storekeepers. The sum realized was $19.66, added to that which had previously been brought by the children made a total of $23.75. A large number of parents and friends were present and their help in making the sale a success was much appreciated. Miss Randall and her assistant are to be congratulated on their enthusiastic interest in the cause.

CARS DERAILED

American Express Train Leaves Tracks at Auburndale

At 11:30 last night as the American Express train for Albany was approaching the Commonwealth avenue bridge at Auburndale, the locomotive left the rails, jounced over the ties for nearly 200 yards, and came to a stop opposite the yard of the White-Cary Lumber Company, half toppled over. Two of the nine mail cars also were derailed. The roadbed at this point has been reballasted with broken stone and it is supposed that either the new ballast or a defective switch may have caused the accident. Because of the work on the re-ballasting, the train was travelling at a speed of but 25 miles instead of its usual 60. Engineer Taylor of North Brookfield and Fireman Haskell of Allston escaped injury. The latter crawled back into the cab and opened the escape valve to prevent an explosion. The seven cars not derailed were soon coupled onto another engine and despatched. It took a wreeking crew a coupled onto another engine and despatched. It took a wrecking crew a number of hours to get the locomotive and the two forward cars back

ONE THING AND ANOTHER Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

I'm off to the "City Hall" hearing, They tell me it's next Monday night, I'm rarin' to go, I look for some show And hope for a free-for-all fight.

A new city hall I am strong for, Although I don't really know why, It's now in the air, some day t'will be here, Perhaps in the sweet bye and bye.

No, I haven't a fav'rite location, One site or another for me, Triangle or square, in fact anywhere To any old place I'll agree.

No doubt they'll need plenty of money Such buildings must have many frills, So let 'em spend big, in the treasury dig, I don't have to settle the bills.

In spite of the warning that our hearts should be free from "envy, hatred and malice," I happen to be one of those who cannot help a feeling of envy for the individual who is handy at tying bundles. I wonder just why it is that some of us are gifted in this direction while others are dumb indeed when we seek to make a neat looking package with the aid of paper and string.

looking package with the aid of paper and string.

Sometimes it has occurred to me that I did not have paper enough and to that end I have obtained a large stock of paper and twine, confident that nothing could stop me from producing one of the neatest bundles that was ever carried. On such occasions I have concluded with the conviction that I was too liberal with the paper and have then began shearing off large chunks. The result has been far from satisfactory, according to my esthetic tastes.

off large chunks. The result has been far from satisfactory, according to my esthetic tastes.

Then I have tried to be sparing with paper and when my task was finished I have found a gaping space or void which was so offensive to my gaze that I undertook the job all over again. In both instances or methods the task has been an extended one and I have required more time than an artisan who is paid by the hour.

On the other hand it has been my privilege to see a man do a nifty piece of work with paper and twine in the shake of a lamb's tail, as the old folks used to say. He seemed to be able to estimate the amount of paper required with one quick glance and to have a bundle ready in jig time. How admission that it was not in my line, do they do it, I ask you?

If that was all I might rest with the but when this man or woman, for some women are fully as dexterous as men, breaks off the twine by snapping it around the forefinger! Gosh! It is then I am completely floored. Here is something that to me is barely short of miraculous—giving a thick piece of twine a clever twist and causing the strands to part as evenly as if cut with a knife or scissors! It's wonderful, and to some of us more wonderful than to others.

It is not my intention to offer ad-cut with a kinte or scissors? It woulderful, and to some of us more wonderful than to others.

It is not my intention to offer advice to those who make the traffic regulations for our beloved burg. They might take me seriously and suggest that I sit in at a conference on revised rules. Such an honor would indeed gratify my vanity but I wouldn't be of much use as a counsellor.

Instead, what I have to say shall be offered in the form of a request, a polite, although earnest appeal. In that way I hope to achieve my purpose, At the junction of Park and Vernon streets, Ward 7, there is, in my opinion, a situation that is really grave, at least after nightfall. There are two hills, or shall we call them sharp grades—one coming down Park street and then tother down Vernon street. Many vehicles turn off Tremont street and head South, either up Park street or turning into Park street, swing abruptly right and take Vernon street as well, while other vehicles turn from Vernon into Park and then left into Tremont street.

I submit my case to those familiar with the situation at this point and feel confident that will stand back of me. Now then, in broad daylight this situation is none too good. When school children are on their way to or from classes, a policeman guards this junction, but at night it requires caution, a quality which some automobile drivers seem not to possess.

In short, I am hopeful that something be done to produce a light at this corner. Perhaps a silent policeman would answer the purpose. I'm thinking that it would, but as I again assert I do not pretend to be able to solve traffic problems. I know that a serious one exists at this point. Maybe an arc light will guide night traffic on its way, but nevertheless the fact remains that it is a dark and dangerous corner, not sufficiently lighted at night and offering great possibilities of peril both to drivers and pedestrians.

possibilities of peril both to drivers and pedestrians.

Signs posted in the cars of the Boston Elevated show the desire of the road to obtain the co-operation of passengers in a safety-first and happyriding campaign. Various suggestions are offered as to how one may help the road speed up the movement of traffic and make things pleasant all round. I am an optimist myself and therefore thoroughly approve of these signs and requests.

But the art of traveling is becoming more and more complicated. Only the other day I spent the half-hour of a trolley ride trying to memorize a sign that described the meaning of the white post markings. I am ashamed to admit that I couldn't commit to memory these simple rules. I shall ask the General Manager of the Elevated for a copy and study them until I know them backwards, for the reason it may be I shall get "turned round" some day.

These pole-marking rules or specifications or whatever they may be are informative, that is, once the mind has grasped them. They tell you that the white band painted soandso means this or that and painted this way means something else. A red band over the red means something else again.

And so on.
It will be a memory test worth while and I admit it, if once I know what these markings indicate, but will they remain permanent or will there be a change? Before I learn them word for word I must be assured no one will work a change in them.

I saw some people try to enter the front end of a Newton-bound trolley car at Harvard avenue, Allston. One would think from the manner of the motorman, they were trying to perpetrate a crime. They field to the rear door when he shouted loud words of prospective passengers? They had just alighted from a Dudley street-Allston car, which, when one is traveling to Dudley street may be entered different rules for different lines why should passengers be bawled-out if they become confused?

Let the Elevated post a few signs urging the motormen and conductors to co-operate with the passengers and see if that doesn't help some.

A condition has arisen in Newton which I trust will serve to impress upon our citizens the value of the civil service system—as far it goes. I hope that they will see the need of further extending the policy of keeping appointive offices out of politics. In fact, the illustration to which I refer proves, in my opinion, that there are still faults in the general plan which should be corrected.

Most everybody is familiar with the which should be corrected.

Most everybody is familiar with the trials of an executive, whether he be Mayor, County Commissioner, Governor or President of our country. One of the greatest problems that beset a man in any of these positions is the insistent appeals of job-hunters. They and their friends can take up more valuable time of a chief executive in urging the qualifications of a candidate for appointment than some question of vital importance to all citizens.

The establishment of a civil service

zens.

The establishment of a civil service system was a blessing and over and over again the wisdom of its founders has been exemplified. Think of what would happen if a Governor had the say in selecting clerks of several thousand minor positions. It would simply become his entire work.

thousand minor positions. It would simply become his entire work.

There are numerous places to be filled in city and state service now that do not come under civil service as we say, and they cause no end of unnecessary bother and vexation to men with appointive power. I once heard a man, who was at that time Mayor of Boston, say "I think I'd go crazy if it wasn't for civil service," and he wasn't easily upset either.

But to get back to Newton. Years ago we voted to place the office of Chief of Police under civil service. It was an excellent plan as has been shown. But now, with our present chief past the age of retirement, we find that the law will permit his reappointment annually for a period of five years if the Mayor comminates him and the Aldermen approve. We know that Mayor Childs has nominated Chief Burke and that the question of confirmation is in abeyance. It all depends on the pleasure of the Aldermen.

I do not propose to advise the Aldermen as to what course they should pursue next Monday night or at whatever time they see fit to take up Chief Burke's name. All I wish to say is that the Police Department is thrust back into politics where it does not belong. I am sure that if I were an Alderman and Chief Burke's name was before me I should unhesitatingly vote for confirmation. I have known him since my boyhood and apart from our friendship I am well aware of the service he has performed for the city. What I want to point out, however,

What I want to point out, however, is that the law should never have been so framed as to put a public official, at the end of many years of duty, into a position where he becomes a political football. That statute should be amended.

MR. SHARKEY OF NEWTON

The city of Newton enjoyed considrable publicity recently because of the fact that one Joseph P. Cukoshay is a resident of this burg. Mr. Cukoshay has attained an appreciable standing in the realm of fistiana during the past few years under the pseudonym "Jack Sharkey." While a member of the United States Navy, Mr. Sharkey became proficient in the manly, if not egother of the United States Navy, Mr. Sharkey became proficient in the manly, if not egother of publishing the proficient in the manly, if not egother of publishing the proficient of the become in "handling his mitts," that when his term of enlistment expired with "Uncle Sam," he adopted pugilism as a profession. Mr. Sharkey, so we have read, is a native of Binghamton, New York. Just how he happened to select Boston as his place of domicile when he concluded his service in the Navy, we do not know, but he must have been favorably impressed with our neighboring metropolis. When he commenced to shine in local pugllistic circles, his residence was announced as being in unceremoniously onto the property or into the affairs of their neighbors, no delegation of bona-fide Newtonians was present to congratulate him upon his return. A number of his personal friends from other cities had decorated his house and were on hand to greet him.

And also, according to at least one Boston paper, a representative of the business men of Newton was quite in the prospective heavyweight champion arrived, and presented Mr. Sharkey with a bouquet of flowers in behalf of said business men. Knowing as we do most of the business men of Newton, we were quite surprised to read that they had seen fit to manifest their appreciation of Mr. Sharkey through the medium of a nosegay. It pained that they had seen fit to manifest their appreciation of Mr. Sharkey through the medium of a nosegay. It pained us to think that the multitudes in other places who read of this presentation might deem the Newton business men effeminate by the tendering of such an incongruous gift to the coming Emperor of the Kingdom of Swat. And we feared that Mr. Sharkey might consider Newton business men somewhat parsimonious even if their alleged collective donation to him had been accompanied by a box of bon-bons and a bottle of eau de Cologne.

So we inquired of various representative business men of this city if the news, as published in the Boston paper, of their gift to Mr. Sharkey, was correct. One and all they asserted that they had no knowledge of the affair until they read of it. This was a considerable relief to us, as we would feign believe that the business men of Newton would limit the concrete evidence of their esteem of Mr. Sharkey to a gift, that though highly sentimental, was of a quite evanescent mature. We feel confident that in due time, now that it is common knowledge that Mr. Sharkey is a resident of our fair city, he will receive fitting and lasting evidences of good-fellowship from the Newton business men and many of his fellow Newtonians.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Art Committee of the Newton entre Woman's Club, Mrs. W. Con nell Appleton, chairman, makes another delightful announcement that other delightful announcement that scores for this committee one more in the list of pleasant plans for Club members and others. Friday, June 10th, is Flower Day not only in an Exhibit at the Newton Centre Club House, but in visits to sample gardens in bloom, that will be at once an incentive and joy for beholders. On that date, from 2 till 8 p. m.—for the masculine members of the household may like to gaze upon floral beauthe masculine members of the house-hold may like to gaze upon floral beau-ty also—flowers, plants, bulbs, and seedlings will be on display at the Club House, with opportunity for pur-chase of the latter two named. Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A.

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. was held on Wednesday, May 25th, at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, a former president, 43 Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville, with the president, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, presiding. The meeting was called to order at 12 o'clock. There was a short devotional period, with Mrs. David Black, chairman, reading from the scriptures and offering prayer. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. W. B. Phelps, Mrs. Kepner, chairman of the Program Committee, read this report, and happily combined her own report for program. She reported the three meetings of this character held during the year: the October meeting when Mrs. Sayford Bacon told of the quaint and often beautiful melodies of the Folk Songs of the Southern negroes and illustrated the "spirituals," which are an outburst of the religious fervor of this race; and Mrs. Sherwood Eddy told of the Y. M. C. A. work throughout the world, with the telling of the Hfe story of a Japanese girl, the happiness and sorrow of which will long stay in memory; the January meeting when Mrs. L. E. Moore sang, and Mrs. A. H. Decatur told of her Oriental trip, both being delightful entertainment; and the March meeting when Mrs. Irving O. Palmer gave with a wealth of good advice and humor her lecture on "Busy Idleness," At each of these meetings, too, the members were indebted to the Devotional chairman for helpful service" in closing it with a social tea.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Florence G. Morse, reported that she had sent out 1,318 post cards, and written 40 letters during the past year. The treasurer, Miss Emma A. Page, reported the income from subscriptions, handkerchief sales, rummage sale, food sale and other sources, as $676.05. Expenditures for printing, gifts, postage, supplies, service, flowers, social, country work, Club dues, summer lunches, etc., amounted to $656.58.

Auburndale Woman's Club
Business and Professional Women's Division

Into our Club group we welcome the tewly formed Division of Professional of the Business Women of the Auburnlale Woman's Club which innovation is a distinct group of a Club already in existence once more shows the wistion and progressiveness of Newton in being in the van of all forward movement. The idea may well be followed on other sections of Newton, and then nother sections of the section of club life as their time permits. Protessional and business women will be a distinct asset to Club work for they can bring the information and constructive ideas of actual knowledge and experience where to the woman of the household there has been either theory or the "sayso" of those in whom they have confidence—sometimes woefully misplaced as they learn to their cost in listening to the suave explanations of self-interested promoters—but do not know personally. To them, too, can be brought many of the interesting and fascinating studies that women who can steal away from home for a few hours have been delving into, and an equally valuable—and unexplored —field can be brought to their attention with worthwhile results.

It was because the business and professional women had felt for some time that there was this unexplored field for them to roam, from which they were barred by business hours, that they sought to fill this need by an organization which they might call their own. Expressing this, the group met by invitation of Mrs. Stephen E.
Wright, past president, and formed their sub-organization of the Auburndale Woman's Club, electing officers to look after their group interests for the coming year. Those elected were:
chairman, Miss Edan Moir; sub-chairman, Miss Coar MacKenzie; secretary, Miss Adrienne E. Smith; treasurer,

The purpose of the organization is given "to promote friendship, loyalty, and service." Meetings will be held on the second Monday of the month, during the usual Club year, from October to April, inclusive, at the Auburndale Club, in the Woman's Club Room.

As Clubwomen we wish them success and happiness in their purpose and accomplishments.

General Federation

Many hundred women throughout the country were speeding on fast trains, and by automobiles, Sunday, to learn at first hand the accomplishments, aims, and program for the future of the national organization, to which they are sent as delegates because they represent in their home community the type of woman who has under mayor of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Afred J. Knapp, president of the Michigan Federation and Mrs. Dorian M. Rus-sell, chairman of the local Biennial Council Board, gave addresses of wel-come to which Mrs. Sherman respond-ed. A dinner was given by the Mich-ican State Federation Monday evaning come to which Mrs. Sherman responded. A dinner was given by the Michigan State Federation Monday evening to honor the officials of the General Federation, Board of Directors, State Presidents and chairmen of departments, divisions and committees. These brilliant social affairs attest the esteem in which our leaders are held throughout our country, and add the lighter vein of enjoyment and entertainment that is pleasing.

"The American Home and its Health Standards" is the general subject of the Council meeting and has been stressed by the chairmen of the several department and division heads in relating their work to the broad pro-

Among our prominent Club leaders who left for Grand Rapids for the General Federation session this week were Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Poole, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Packard, Mrs. C. P. Warner, and Miss Carolyn J. Pck.
Clubwomen will be glad to learn that the Executive Board sent $25 to the emergency fund for Mississippi Flood sufferers.

Amherst's Historic Tavern Summer Mecca for Clubwomen will be seeking beautiful Amherst in quite other weeks of the summer than just that of "Amherst Week," spoken of above, for there has gone forth a most alluring announcement, Probably no quest so "gets into the seekers of that early colonial "blood," on the seekers of that early colonial "blood," on not.

May Dickinson Kimball's shrewdly delightful announcement, therefore, that she is going to allow others to acquire some of her coveted treasures, in the interest of founding a Fund for Mothercraft, will be eagerly welcomed, and will lure women to their haven, the old Dickinson-Baggs Tavern, on Main street, Amherst. Besides viewing these fascinating articles of former days, there will be the thrill, also, of entering an old-time tavern that whispers of other times and affairs. Incidentally, Mrs. Kimball has among other things about 1,500 mugs stored here, of all kinds, sizes, patterns, and uses, and in all manner of materials, from heavy to fragile. We would not call undue attention to wonder as to this particular fad, especially in view or leaning toward such a choice of collections.

This is what Mrs. Kimball tells us about it:

This is what Mrs. Kimball tells us about it:
Beneath the stately elms which shade the aristocratic main street of Amherst, stands this historic hostel-ry which is of more than passing interest. The old Dickinson-Baggs Tavern in 1772 began to sustain the reputation of its hospitable signboard:—"Drink for the thirsty, food for the hungry, lodging for the weary and keeping for the horses." Today it has been restored by Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, founder of Mothercraft, and her brother, Frank Bliss Dickinson, and is furnished with antiques in the

and is furnished with antiques in the period of its early days.

The tavern was informally opened in September, 1926, when Mrs. Kimball entertained Mary Mattoon Chapter, D. A. R., named in honor of her great grandmother.

One of the rooms is devoted to the Mothercraft exhibit showing the progress of the work from the beginning. Since Mothercraft was founded in memory of Mrs. Kimball's mother, Malah Bliss Dickinson, the home town seems an especially appropriate setting for the work.

Beginning in June the Mothercraft and Child Welfare Department of the State Federation plans to sponsor here a six months' sale of a large collection of antiques, representing many years of Mrs. Kimball's collecting, toward the establishment of a Mothercraft maintenance fund. The tavern will be kept open daily from June first to December first.

The allurement of this old tavern will add to the fascination of the collection of rare and beautiful antiques.
The ballroom, extending the length of the house, in which old time dances

The romance of olden days is still felt within the panelled walls of this historic tavern at which the stage coaches between Boston and Albany used to stop while travelers sought the refreshment for which the tavern was famous.

"Members of the department are in terested in this way," says Mrs. Kimball, "to start a campaign for a fund which is very much needed in order that the international interest in Mothercraft may be served.

And herewith closes the Woman's Club Column for the season 1926-27. Your editor wishes to express her deep appreciation to the Clubwomen whose co-operation and support and consideration have helped her to compile the Column on time, and to express, too, her pleasure in the many friendships continued and gained. She asks their continued interest by sending to her as soon as printed this summer the Year-Books and Calendars, and that they notify her as to the names and addresses of the new Press Chairmen. She asks, too, that Club presidents request such chairmen to send their news to her addressed to her home, 4 Pembroke street, Newton, not to the Graphic office, as she is not located there; any news they may wish put in the first Column in September, and thereafter, so that it may reach her at latest on the first mail Monday of the week in which it is to go in. She asks, too, the courtesy of having all Club news, or announcements pertaining to Club women, sent to her, and not inserted as "personals," or otherwise, in the Graphic, this being the policy of its owner and Editor, Mr. Brimblecom, that the Club Column is the place for all such notices. She will appreciate it, therefore, if all presidents will announce to their Executive Boards that all news that any chairmen wish inserted should be sent to the Club press chairman, who will then assemble this, and send to the Column editor.

The Council then passed in Review before the Commissioner, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, and officers of Norumbega Council, with the officers saluting and the Scouts doing eyes right.

The lines of fours passed down the field and the drum and bugle corps proceeded with a splendid demonstration under Drum Major Arnold Nichols, of Troon 1.

Acting President Marcy escorted Mr. Converse and Honorary Commissioner James C. Irwin to the field and Secretary of the Council James R. Warren escorted the judges to their places at the head of the Council line which formed on Elm road.

Activity began on the field at two o'clock, when the Seascouts under Skipper Morgan Harris and Mate A. C. Dinsmore reported for their guard duty. At the same time Troops had their pup tents for equipment being pitched under the direction of Clerk of Course F. W. Gilcreas, chairman of the Rally Committee, Marshall I. Stone, as going over all equipment and preparations to be sure that everything was in readiness.

At this point in the Rally, Troop 5 stood in first place with 18 points and Troop 4 second with 16 points. The feeling of friendly rivalry ran high, for Troop 5 had been working hard all year to take the Irwin cup from Troop 4.

Then according to Rally regulations attendance was counted and the score was ted, for Troop 4 took first with 5 points, having 100 per cent attendance and Troop 5 came second with three points, giving them a score of 21 points each. Troop 10 of Waban, one of the newer Troops of the Council, came in next with 8 points and then Troop 14 with six points. Troop 19 took five points, Troop 7 and 11, four points each, Troop 1, two points and Troop 18, one point.

Many Technical Points Made Over His Retention in Office

His Retention in Office

The aldermen on Monday night by a vote of 19 to 1 voted to appoint Chief Bernard F. Burke as head of the Police Department for another year. This vote did not represent the real opposition against continuing the Chief in office for another year, as at least one alderman who voted in the affirmative did so for the purpose of being able to move for a reconsideration of the vote. Chief Burke joined the department on December 16, 1889, and passing through the ranks of sergeant and lieutenant, was made chief in 1922. Last year he reached the age limit, 65, and Mayor Childs appointed him for another year, in conformity with Section 3, Chapter 139, of the Special Acts of 1917. At the meeting of the aldermen on June 8, 1926, Alderman Heathcote moved that the rules be suspended to allow the Board to approve the appointment of Mr. Burke as chief for one year by the Mayor.

At the meeting of the aldermen on May 16th a

At the meeting of the aldermen on May 16th, a communication was re-ceived from Mayor Childs which read, Gentlemen:—Under the pension act, Chief Bernard F. Burke would have been retired from the police department on June 22, 1926. With the consent of your Honorable Board his services may be continued as was done one year ago. It is my desire to re-tain his services, and I hereby re-quest the necessary consent.

This policy was pursued in the mat-ter of continuing former Chief Rand-lett in the Fire Department."

lett in the Fire Department."

For a number of weeks there had been considerable talk throughout the city that a determined campaign was being waged by some of the aldermen to prevent the confirmation of Chief Burke. Persons in touch with the aldermen were of the opinion that a large majority of the Board would be favorable to the continuance in office of the chief for another year. The Police Chief and the Fire Chief in the city of Newton hold their positions by virtue of Civil Service until they reach the age of 65. Then they may be appointed to office from year to year by vote of the Board of Aldermen, with the approval of the Mayor. When the matter of the Chief's re-men, with the approval of the Mayor. When the matter of the Chief's reappointment was reached at the aldermanic meeting on Monday night, Alderman Hodgdon arose and asked if the aldermen were to appoint the Chief, or if the matter was to be construed as a confirmation of the Mayor's appointment? President Weeks replied by reading Mayor Childs' letter.

Alderman Hodgdon then raised the question, Has the city physician sub mitted to the aldermen a certificate showing that the Chief is in good health?"

mitted to the aldermen a certificate showing that the Chief is in good health?"

City Solicitor Bartlett informed him that such action on the city physisian's part was unnecessary. Hodgdon next raised the point as to whether or not Chief Burke had himself requested that he be continued in office for another year, in accordance with Section 3, Chapter 139, of the Special Acts of 1917, which reads, "The chief of the police department upon reaching the age of 65 years may, at his request, and by vote of the board of aldermen, approved by the Mayor, be continued in office from year to year." City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that inasmuch as the request had been made by the Mayor instead of by the Chief, it had not been presented in regular form and so was not properly before the Board. President Weeks therefore ordered the matter laid on the table.

Chief Burke was sent for and later in the meeting reached City Hall and presented the request that he be reappointed for another year. Whereupon the matter was taken from the table. Alderman Hodgdon, as spokesman for the opponents of Chief Burke, again started to interrogate City Solicitor Bartlett regarding certain parts of the City Charter which appeared to offer loopholes that would enable the minority to block the reappointment of the Chief. He asked Mr. Bartlett replied that this section is quite long, and he requested his questioner to specify just what part of the section he wished defined. The Ward 5 alderman answered that he wanted the second part of the section explained, as the language therein is vague. The City Solicitor paled in the section he wished defined. The City Solicitor barden in the section he wished defined the section explained, as the language therein is vague. The City Solicitor barden is vague. The City Solicitor barden is vague. Mr. Hodgdon then made in known that he sought information as to whether, or not, a motion for re-consideration could be made follow ing the result of the vote upon the appointment of Chief Burke; such moaccordance with the charter to (Continued on Page 3)

Claffin Field, Newtonville, given for the benefit of Camp Mary Day, the Girl Scout Camp at Nonesuch Pond in Natick!

Saturday, June 11th is the great day and the parade will start promptly at 2:15 from the corner of Elm street and Lowell avenue. Two bands and many celebrities, including His Honor, Mayor Childs, will be in line.

Two big shows in the main ring, at 3 and 6 P. M. Clowns and clowns and acrobats and races and selections by the Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps to fill in the chinks.

How would you like to own a football or baseball signed by George Owen, Harvard 5 "H" man and greatest college athlete of all times? A limited number of these will be given as prizes for games of all kinds to be played on the grounds.

Don't miss the Punch and Judy show or the Gypsy Encampment where you may have your fortune told and grab a grab from the Witches Mystic Caldron.

And then of course there will be Pony Rides, Side Shows (side-splitting monstrosities), hot dogs, Pink Lemonade and all the Circus fixings, including 2 prize Piglets just off the farm. Come early, Bring the Children, and Stay for Supper.

Remember that if it rains the show will all move over to the old gymnasium of the High School. Come just as early, bring just as many children, and eat just as much supper!

Girl Scouts of Newtonville celebrated their 10th birthday in a fitting manner on Wednesday, evening, June 1st, at the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newtonville. Over 100 girls from troops 1, 10, and 22, were present at the opening meeting, when a number of Sth grade girls from troop 1, were welcomed into the Senior troop 19, by Emily Dunleavy, Chairman of the latter troop. The speakers for the evening were Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Local Director for Newton, Mrs. C. D. Meserve, first captain of troop 1, Miss Lisbeth Leighton, assistant director for Cambridge, an original member of the troop, and Captain Skipwith of troop 13, Newton Centre. The meeting ended with a peanut race and refreshments.

They went out on Friday and returned home on Saturday afternoon, regretful that the party couldn't have lasted a week. It was their initiation into the patrol system as used at Camp and apparently they found it most successful. Although a large part of the time was spent in Camp chores, $\frac{5}{2} \text{nny games were played and a few bucky campers went in swimming.}

This troop was followed into Camp by 40 members of the Bugle and Drum Corps and 3 officers, 10 of whom spent Saturday night and all day Sunday.

NEGOTIATING FOR GAME

As stated in the Graphic of last week negotiations for a football game between Newton high and Waltham high in 1928 are going on between authorities of the two schools and it is expected that something definite will be forthcoming soon. Newton has offered the Watch City eleven two dates which are under consideration. The dates are the last Saturday in September and the second Saturday in November. The first of these will probably be dismissed at once as it is too early in the season. Thus, if the two teams meet at all in 1928, it will doubtless be on the 10th of November. The old date, the third Saturday in October, has been filled by both schools which are under two year agreements with their opponents. The site of the game is as yet undecided but it will likely be played on Claffin field as the last game between the two great rivals was at Waltham.

NEWTON WINS LAST GAME

The Newton high school baseball team won its final game of the season Wednesday by defeating the Boston English high team, contenders for the Hub league title, 9 to 7. Newton gave Reilly, its pitcher, a three run lead in the first inning. Spain and Proctor beat out infield hits the latter's coming after Spain had stolen second. The pair worked a double steal and defill second behind the fourth place with points being awarded on individual times. Reed was second in the first sing on an agueze play. Andres poled the ball over the left field canvas for a home run scoring Proctor sheat of him. In the third the orange and black added three more on Spain's Texas leaguer, Proctor's life on an error, deMille's Texas leaguer, and White's life on another error. when his fly fell safe in short left, on the erightfielder's muff of Reilly's long fly.

Although Reilly was in trouble most of the time his teammates backed him up nicely for five innings. English threatened from the start. A hit, pass and a sacrifice put men on second and third in the second inning with two down but Spain threw the next man out at first. In the third English got men on in the same position with but one down. The next batter hit to Warren who pegged to Andres to head off a run. Andres chased the runner back nearly to third before he got him and then pegged to Mullen at second. Mullen threw to Spain and the latter tagged out the runner for a double play. In the next frame Reilly got two English runners off first base after each had singled. In the sixth English scored when Reilly began to tire. A double, pass, and error and a single counted two runs. Linquist took the mound in the seventh but gave way to Don Wilson when he couldn't locate the plate. Wilson got by until the eighth when the Hub players scored four runs. McCleary came in from rightfield and stopped the attack. English added another tally in the ninth. Newton Champ Out in First Robert Dunn, winner of the marble hampionship of the Newton play-rounds, was eliminated in the first round of the tourney on the Boston Common to decide the winner of the Common to decide the winner of the Greater Boston championship last Saturday by Samuel Lundy of Winthrop, 2 games to none. Dunn is a Newton Centre boy who learned the game in China as did his older brother, William, last year's Newton and Greater Boston champion who went to Atlantic City to compete in the National tourney.

Vaughan Stars in Field

In the first annual game of the Yale-Princeton baseball series Dick Vaughan, Newton Centre youth, Yale shortstop was the Blue's fielding star with nine chances without an error. At bat Vaughan connected for one hit in four times up. He also figured in the Eli's only double play by taking the ball at second from the pitcher for a forceout and doubling the hitter at first.

Hartzell Big Factor in Win

In a pitchers battle on Claffin Field last Friday afternoon Blanchi of Som-ierville bested McCleary of Newton and the Somerville nine won its final to Suburban league game of the season 4 to 2. Newton found the Somerville moundsman for but six safeties while Somerville got but one more than that number off McCleary.

Newton went scoreless until the last of the sixth when Spain singled, Proctor singled and the third baseman relet the centrefielder's throw get by him. Spain scored on this error but Proctor was held at second. He moved a along to third on McCleary's sacrifice fly and scored on deMille's hit. This was the extent of Newton's runget ting. Hartzell Big Factor in Win
career at Wesleyan in a blaze of glory for twice in the same week he won by wide margins the necessary matches that would give Wesleyan the event. Against Tufts he was completely the master of the situation winning his singles without any perceptible difficulty, then he turned about and walked away by even a wider margin in the doubles. The following week he faced the Sabrina team in the championship of the Little Three, and here again he flashed his best tennis in order to win both the matches that meant victory for the Middletown college. His playing this year has been hard to estimate because of the fact that it has been streaky, but there is one salient factor to keep in mind and that is that when he had to win he usually did.

Captain John Proctor of the Newton high nine has invited the letter men of this year's team to his home next Thursday night where they will elect a successor. Newton will not lose many of this year's nine by graduation and it is problematical who will be chosen to lead the next year's outfit. Proctor, McCleary, Andres, and White are the seniors among the letter men. The entire infield that has played the last few games, de-Mille, Fletcher, Warren, Spain and Mullen will be available next season while five pitchers, Wilson, Reilly, Linquist, Macy and Beairsto will be back. In the outfield, Coach Sullivan will have Gatchell, and Mullen, as an outfield nucleus and Art. Wilson and Phil Andres for the receiving berth.

ble restraint and there was little 'ommotion.

The police restored order in a comparatively short time, and the concert commenced without much delay having been occasioned. The program included three selections each by the orchestra, band and chorus, and one selection by all three groups combined. A xylophone solo was played by Floyd Sawyer. The chorus of 600 boys and girls was under the direction of Edward N. Griffin, supervisor of music; the orchestra was directed by Charles B. Harrington, and contained over 70 players; the band, under the leadership of Charles R. Spaulding, numbered 60 instrumentalists.

be made within 24 hours. Mr. Bartlett answered that any alderman voting with the majority could make a motion for reconsideration. In answer to a question from Mr. Hodgdon as to whether the vote would be by ballot, or a "Yes and No" vote, the City Solicitor replied that it should be a "Yes and No" vote. Alderman Earle moved that a roll-call vote be taken. The vote was then called for, and 19 aldermen voted to appoint Chief Burke for another year. Alderman Hodgdon voted in the affirmative obviously for the purpose of being eligible to move for reconsideration, which he did the next day.

The lone vote in the negative was that of Alderman Heathcote, erstwhile bosom friend and champion of Chief Burke. Last year it was Alderman Heathcote who moved that the rules be suspended to enable a vote to be taken on the re-appointment of the Chief, then moved that he be re-appointed, and who highly eulogized him. He gave no reasons to the Board for his change of attitude.

The motion for reconsideration will cruse the matter to again be brought before the Board at its next meeting. Some of those attempting to prevent the Chief from continuing to hold office have asserted that "a bombshell" will be dropped.

Prior to the vote taken on the re-appointment, Alderman Baker had moved that the next meeting of the aldermen be held on June 27, rather than on June 20, because of the college functions occurring around the latter date. When it became apparent that a motion to reconsider was to be made, Alderman Baker moved reconsideration of the vote taken which named June 27 as the date of the succeeding meeting. His reason for this was—that Chief Burke's term expires on June 22nd. Had any of the aldermen thought of moving for immediate re-consideration, it would have been unnecessary to change the date of the next meeting to June 20.

$100,000 GIFT

EDITORIAL

The young man who recently parked his car in a prohibited spot, tore up the tag requesting him to report to the Chief of Police and was cleared by the police court on the technicality that the police regulation did not have the sanction of the city government, has made much harder the work of the police department in working out a satisfactory solution of traffic control in Nonantum square. Decent minded motorists should always cooperate with the police in its control of traffic and it is the actions of young egotists like the one mentioned above, who put their own wishes and their own comfort first, which makes the traffic problem so serious. The prohibited area to which we refer is directly opposite the fire station in Nonantum square and is intended to give the lengthy ladder truck sufficient room to swing out into the street, in answering an alarm. We don't wish any one any harm but if this young man parks his car again in this area we won't shed any tears if his machine is soundly sideswiped by the truck.

While from the voluminous and comprehensive report made by Commissioner Chadwick on the collapsed the east bleacher at the High School concert last Friday night, one might infer that the accident was caused by overloading and defective seat carriers, it is rather singular that the other stands which held even the proper strain. We believe from a layman's standpoint that the accident was caused by placing this stand on unevenly filled ground around the grmnashum and that the weight of the ground than the other, causing the super structure to sag towards on side, and the weight breaking down all opposition. It is interesting to note the apparently close detail given by city or class in the oversight of the filled land, everything seemed to be most carefully covered.

Some Alderman missed a good chance to show his knowledge of parliamentary law at the meeting of the Board on Monday night. A motion to reconsider the confirmation of Chief of Police Burke, hoping it would not prevail, would have cleared up this filled land, everything seemed to be most carefully covered.

Miss Timson's room, 5th and 6th grades, has some very interesting scrap books, containing from 40 to 50 pages, each. The class has Current Events each morning and items are placed in these books. This keeps the children watching for good "news" and the books are helpful for reference in geography and history periods. The children in Miss Stewart's room, Grade I, enjoy showing what they have accomplished in "Healthland." If they meet the requirements for cleanliness their names are placed in the House. Handkerchiefs, sponges, soap, tooth brushes and tooth paste are so utilized in the construction of "Healthland" that there can be no doubt as to what must be used to get their names in the house. If these children have the required weight, their pictures are found on the wall in the "Shoe" and their names on the "Humpty Dumpty" chart.

OPPOSE TRIANGLE

New City Hall Site Hearing Attracts Small Audience

New City Hall Site Hearing Attracts

Small Audience

A hearing on the taking of the land at the triangle bounded by Homer and Walnut streets' and Commonwealth avenue as the location for a new city hall and war memorial, was held at the meeting of the aldermen last Monday night. Much less opposition than was expected, appeared. City Clerk Grant read letters from M. Frank Lucas, Charles P. Cunniff and Charles Watters, protesting against the removal of the city hall from West Newton. Another letter from Robert F. Sawyer of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Society, favored the "triangle" site.

George P. Brophy, president of the West Newton Business Men's Association, delivered the principal argument against building a new city hall on the "triangle" site. He said he is not opposed to the taking of the "triangle" for civic purposes, but that city hall should remain at West Newton for the best interests of the city hell said in part, that everything offered at the "triangle," can be offered at West Newton. The ground at the "triangle" is of such a nature, that the cost of buildings there will be problematical. The cost at West Newton is more accessible, being on the main railroad line, and main street car lines. The argument "that the 'triangle' is not a good argument. Mr. Brophy asked, "Why is not the same argument applicable to the State House, the national capitol, or the city hall of Boston?" He said that he represented the great majority of residents of West Newton, and probably those of Newtonville, Newton and Auburndale.

Representative Arthur W. Hollis of Newton, said, "It is a bad time to get idents of West Newton, and probably those of Newtonville, Newton and Auburndale.

Representative Arthur W. Hollis of Newton, said, "It is a bad time to get into the game with the cards stacked against you, and the aldermen practically decided on this matter. From nine years service in the Board of Aldermen, I think city hall should be located in a business part of the city. You might just as well put your kitchen stove in your parlor as to put city hall in an outlying residential section. If the "triangle" site is taken for the new city hall, a business zone will be placed around it. People who want city hall at the "triangle," can't picture what will follow. The "triangle" should be taken for memorial purposes.

City Traesurer Francis Newhall on zone will be placed around it. People who want city hall at the "triangle" should be taken for memorial purposes.

City Treasurer Francis Newhall opposed a city hall on the "triangle because it would be very much out of the way. It is not near a postofficor banks, and the very heavy traffic on Commonwealth avenue would be dangerous to persons travelling to and from city hall. Mrs. Fred Gibson for the Newton Centre Women's Clussaid she represented 700 voters and an aproperty owners who favor cit hall at the "triangle." She situated on get the search of the same nature as exists the triangle, and that no trouble has been experienced.

Assessor John W. Murphy said had atended all the hearings held last year to ascertain public opinion on the location of the new city hall and he has yet to hear a good reason why the new building should be placed at West Newton. "Uncle Sam," he said, "will take care of the needed postal facilities, no person at city hall outside of the city treasurer has any concern regarding banking facilities, and a vault can be provided to hold the moneys received by the treasurer. The argument that the new city hall will not be near the employees homes is not a good reason. Officials and employees must do as other people do and travel to their jobs. I and all the rest would go to Oak Hill if the new city hall should be placed there. The court house ought to be near police headquarters, but the work taken at the public hearing in Newton will was 2 to 1 in favor of the "triangle" site. He lauded Newton as a considerable of the city that the work taken at the public hearing in Newton will was 2 to 1 in favor of the "triangle" site. He lauded Newton as a considerable of the city and the theory of the considerable of the city and the construction of Commonwealth avenue 30 rears ago, and prophesied that a city all on the "triangle" would soon payor itself by increasing values in this ity.

COLLEGE NEWS

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

Now that the examination period is over and the graduate-to-be along with his more juvenile comrades of the year can once again stop to inquire about the weather it would be well to consider those select members that leave their respective colleges this year for the chilly exterior of the world at large. Seniors—then freshmen in the strife. Gone the lauvels, instead the cap and bells. Such are the remarks that are passed concerning the men and women that leave the portals of their choice for the channels of their desire. But, is granted that they are not equipped to meet the world with the sanguine confidence that the elders think they should have, they have one thing in their favor, and that is that they have fought one battle through and conquered as their diploma testifies. That alone is an epoch making matter for the youth of today. The valleys are too pleasant, and the view from the mountain top is only a view is all too often the expression that is voiced by these sharers of the kingdom of youth. Therefore the people that are leaving with the God-speeds of their class-mates and the prayers and hopes of their parents have something in back of them—something that is often takes a long time to acquire for tenacity is not won in the first battle. They go with honors and ability. They are standard bearers.

Taking the orbit of New England we will first list those Newtonians that are doffing the war paint, whose studious habits have resulted in his winning one of the largest scholarships that Dartmouth awards. Along with the school, battle that is entered upon the rolls, and not only does he lead because of the alphabetical list, but also because of his scholarships that Dartmouth awards. At Boston University the roll-call is considerably augmented because of the great number of students that attend the college. The names of the graduates cannot be ascertained for certain because some of the Business Administration students have been out at work for some little time, but there are some names that should be noted. Abbot Gotshall, the former tennis player, Donald Martin, another tennis star, are two of the large number that should graduate this year but of whom no definite information could be obtained.

CANDLE LIGHT RECITAL

William Dawes, Jr., Chapter Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution, gave a candle light recital in Channing Church Parlors on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. The room was decorated with flags, buff and blue candles and flowers. These boys and girls, between the ages of eleven and thirteen, sold their own tickets and realized a handsome sum. They took this way of earning the money to buy a large silk flag and the remainder will go into the treasury to be used for patriotic work. The program included a word of greeting from Marshall Barnes, the president, and vocal and instrumental music rendered in a most pleasing manner and indicating considerable talent. Those taking part were Jean Morrow, Hazel Moore, Donald Baker, Robert Fernald, Alice Scofield, Grosvenor Calkins, Marion Hinkle, Julien Weston, Elizabeth Barnes, Margaret Hebberd, Eleanor Whitney, Miriam Morrow, Janet and Royal Tuthill, Jeanette Houghton, Lewis Huntington and Phyllis Baker.

TENNIS COURTS AT VICTORY FIELD AND CABOT PARK

FIELD AND CABOT PARK

Aldermen Earle and Madden scored a victory for tennis devotees Monday night at the meeting of the aldermen, when, under suspension of the rules $2000 was appropriated to build tennis courts at Victory Field and Cabot Park playgrounds. Hundreds of young men and women in Nonantum, Newton Corner and Newtonville will soon have facilities for enjoying the healthful form of recreation provided by tennis. The land on which the courts will be built, adjoins Victory Field, and was presented to the city by Sanuel Hyslop, formerly agent of the Saxony Mills at Nonantum, and one of the village's best friends. The Finance Committee has previously refused to appropriate money for the construction of these courts.

NEWTON BUSINESS ASSOCIATES

The Newton Business Associates have completed plans for the final dinner and meeting of the present season which will be held on June 14 at the Hunnewell Club; Paxton's will serve the dinner and Larry Frederick's orchestra will furnish the music. The program of the evening is directed by Sherburne Whitney & Company, Mr. MacRae as manager; it will consist of films depicting the fishing industry in complete detail, and Mr. Burns of the Gorton-Pew Company will be the speaker.

Burns of the Gorton-Pew Company will be the speaker.

In view of the fact that there are to be no meetings in July and August, the committee is making plans for an outing of Newton merchants to be held at Pemberton Inn on the afternoon of July 20. Of course, there will be a shore dinner followed by an afternoon of sports and a ball game and indications point to a big day for all who participate. The committee is composed of George Campbell, Watson Baker, Warren Brimblecom, John Burns, Edgar Burkhardt, Wilfred Chagnon, James Donahue, Albert Douglas, Frank Fell, Fred Hawkins, Ralph Patterson, Harry Stevens, Albert Walker and George White.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Three sets of twins were born at the hospital during May. One set was made up of two boys and each of the other two was a boy and a girl. In May the hospital admitted altogether 481 patients and discharged 379, it had in its charge 149 as the greatest numin its charge 149 as the greatest number on any one day and 114 as the smallest number for any day. Its average daily number was 135.39. Sixty children were born or just less than two a day. The out patient department treated 669 cases, the eye clinic 25, of operating cases there were 222, of accident cases 43, x-ray cases 190. The social service department made 66 calls at the hospital, 51 at homes and transferred 29 patients in its car.

Week ending June 4: Patients in hospital 123, patients paying as much as cost of care or more 37, patients paying less than cost of care 56, free patients, including babies 30; patients treated by out patient department 145, by eye clinic 9, accident cases 11, babies born, including one set of twins made up of one boy and one girl, 9 boys, 4 girls; social service calls at homes 7, patients transferred by social service car 6.

Of the accidents treated last week two were due to automobiles, one a wrist lacerated when a hand was thrust through a windshield, the other lacerations upon the face. There were three children patients, one hurt its nose by falling in a yard, another amylated the tip of a finger while sawing wood and the third bitten in the nose by a dog. The six other accidents were a great toe cut while in swimming, an infected finger due to a scratch, a broken leg and ankle because of a fall down stairs, a finger badly jammed in a door, a finger hurt in a fall to the ground and a foreign body which entered the hand while at work hammering steel.

The pupils of the training school are planning a tennis tournament on the hospital courts which are now in constant use.

The Newton project consisted of a campaign against the "bumming" of automobile rides by high school boys and girls standing on the streets and signalling with their hands. This practice had grown to such proportions that it was endangering the lives as well as the morals of the students. ## ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Newton Corner had a visitor for the past week. A nighthawk has been flying every evening over Nonan-tum Square and its vicinity. Birds of this species cannot be termed sweet singers, but they certainly as-sist suffering humanity by killing myriads of troublesome flying insects.

myriads of troublesome flying insects.

Capt. Charles Lindbergh is a young man of wonderful courage and great skill. He has added laurels to his country's reputation for leading the world in progressiveness. He should be highly honored and appreciated. While we do not hold the same view as Mr. Morrison I. Swift of Newton Centre, that America shows decadence by the near hysteria displayed over Lindbergh's great flight over the Atlantic; we do think that the press has "slopped over" in devoting too much space to every little action of this young man since he crossed the ocean. The tremendous catastrophe occasioned by the flood along the Mississippi Valley has been thrust into the background to make room for the chronicling of every movement made, or word spoken by Lindbergh. The young man from Little Falls is modest and unselfish. We believe that he would prefer to have the fortune which will be spent by New York City in according him a spectacular welcome, given to the flood victims, rather than used in providing a passing show.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

How much do you know of the ordigin of Flag Day which is to be observed throughout the country next were precipitated to the ground when Tuesday? I confess that my knowledge of the subject was scant until I given no chance to think it over in oath they take is finely worded. It runs:

"Flag of our great Republic, inspirer of battle, guardian of our homes, whose stars and stripes stand for bravery, purity, truth and union, we salute thee! We, the natives of distant lands, who find rest under thy folds, do pledge our hearts, our lives, and our sacred honor to love and protect thee, our country; and the liberty of the American people forever.'

"It is touching, wispered my guide, and I saw she had caught a faint reflection of that glow that lit the children.

"I told her it was the most touching thing I had seen in America. And so it remains.

"Think of the immense promise in it! Think of the flower of belief and effort that may spring from this warm sowing."

We have a zoning ordiance the purpose of which is to preserve purely residential sections from encroachment of unattractive dwellings or invasion by mercantile establishments. For the most part it seems to have worked well and to have met approval of a majority of our citizens. Now then there is another thing to be thought of which I hope will not be allowed to go until too late to be checked. I refer to illuminated signs. Recently in Boston residents of Beacon Hill protested to the Massachusetts Public Works Commission at the presence of a revolving eletric sign on a building on Beacon street, near Tremont street. These citizens were of the opinion that the beauty of the sky-line was ruined and the sign dominated the effect of the illumination of the State House dome. They deplored the fact that the sign was visible from Boston Common.

On the other hand a large number of leading business men and other reputable citizens argued that the sign was in a business section and should be allowed to remain. They contended that an illuminated sign was evidence of an enterprising city. They charged was in a business section and should be allowed to remain. They contended that an illuminated sign was evidence of an enterprising city. They charged opponents with estheticism. This latter is a terrible thing to say about anybody.

At the same time one can easily see where esthetic tastes might be offended by something huge, grotesque and, to certain eyes, offensive. Be that as it may, we in Newton can do nothing either way about Boston's troubles. We, can however, watch our own step, and that is precisely the point I desire to make. Newton some day will be obliged to meet a similar situation. Let us do it through city ordinances in which no holes may be punched by resourceful lawyers and which do not permit interference by State authorities. Let us strike-out for home rule of illuminated signs as well as billboard advertising and then we shall not be confronted by a struggle between estheticism and commercialism. Let us give both the business man and house-owner a fair and equal chance. It can and should be done.

Lack of foresight at least was revealed by the collapse of the grand stand at the High School field last Friday night. I am not sure but there is more to it than this yet I believe in approaching such a situation with sound reasoning and hesitate to jump at conclusions unless I am sure where I shall land. I realize in taking

How much do you know of the orligin of Flag Day which is to be obligin of Flag Day which is to be obliging and the process of the thirden of June, 1777, adopted the following resolution: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be the stripes of the sea of the day of the stripes of the sea of the stripes of

I wonder how long the present condition of the surface of Waverley avenue is to be permitted. It is some weeks now since the laying of gas mains was completed and yet nothing has been done to restore the roadway to anything like its former condition. Traffic over the avenue is heavy, passenger vehicles finding more use for it than those of the commercial type.

Of course there must be a reason for leaving things unfinished. Who can tell what it may be? I have an idea they know at City Hall. Perhaps if the property owners along Waverley the property owners along Waverley twente would manifest their displeasure and demand recognition of their ights the situation would be improved. I make that suggestion with the hope it may be adopted.

Sometimes there are funny sayings that will bear frequent repetition. No matter how often we hear them we laugh heartily. One of these, from which I am always able to extract mith and which is heard frequently nowadays is, "I really don't think he's going to run again."

AUBURNDALE SHINES

It may be Saints' Rest, but there is no more co-operation, among the Parents in any village than in Auburndale, and it has shown in the class of N. H. S. '27. The president William Benger is from this small village. The class song has been written by two of her daughters. Miss Ruth Ufford has composed the tune, and Miss Dorothy Estabrook, the words. The honor club, representing four years of honor roll work, numbers 45, of whom 8 are Auburndale students.

WHY Chevrolet can offer such marvelously fine cars at such remarkably low prices

Only when you know the facts about the Chevrolet Motor Company is it possible to un-derstand how Chevrolet can offer such marvelously fine cars at such remarkably low prices.

A unit of the General Motors Corporation, the Chevrolet Motor Company is backed by the vast resources and tremendous purchasing power of this mammoth organization. The twelve great Chevrolet factories are equipped with the most modern machinery known to engineering science . . . while tremendous volume production makes possible enormous savings, both in the purchase of raw materials and in the manufacturing processes.

These savings Chevrolet passes on to the purchaser by providing the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the history of the automotive industry.

Come to our showroom and see the Chevrolet models-and you will know why thousands of buyers are selecting Chevrolet each day!

Your neighbors, friends, Visitors—what do they say to themselves when they see your roof? "A little shabby"? Or "terribly unattractive"? Even if you are used to its shabbiness, think of others—and think how much in dollars and cents value a colorful, artistic roof would add to your home.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Frank B. Cummings of Brea-more road, Newton, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the state, was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary club held Monday noon at the Woodland Golf club.

Mr. Cummings, a retired business man, was persuaded by Governor Ful-ler to accept the office of director of animal industry in order to clear up a situation which had become almost a scandal.

Mr. Cummings said that his bureau expended about $200,000 annually most of which was to eliminate tubercular cattle in the state, the primary object of which was to protect the milk supply. He found on taking office that quite a considerable business had been done in the way of buying up a low grade of cattle by cattle dealers at a low price around $25, having them tested, found tubercular, condemned by the state, which paid them $25, the Federal government also paid $25 and the carcass could be sold for another $25, thus making a fine profit for the dealer. This practice has been abolished.

Massachusetts is far behind all the

for the dealer. This practice has been abolished.

Massachusetts is far behind all the other states of the union in the control of bovine tuberculosis and it is said that not until 1941 will the state be free of this dread disease.

Mr. Cummings also said that his Bureau had charge of the dogs and rabies. He said that while immunization was not yet deemed of sufficient value to make it compulsory there was enough evidence for him to strongly advise dog owners to have their dogs immunized. He urged strict measures for licensing all dogs, as, in his opinion, the danger came from the homeless and outcast dogs, which would be lessened if the license law was obeyed. Incidentally he said the revenue of the city could be increased if all the dogs were licensed.

Mr. Cummings commended the action of the Newton authorities this spring in ordering the restraining of dogs instead of the old fashioned muz-

At the business meeting of the club, it was announced that the scholorship for next year was awarded to Franz W. Bangs of Newtonville avenue, Newton, who would enter M. I. T. in the fall.

LAWN PARTY

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold its annual lawn party Saturday P. M., June 18, at the home of the Chairman, Mrs. Noyes Meara, 109 High street. The location being central, makes it an appropriate meeting place and the attractive grounds with flowers, plants and shade trees makes a desirable setting for sociability.

When one needs to answer the call of "the inner man" there will be food of all kinds, "hot dogs," candy, ice cream and tonic.

Especially welcome at such a time—the afternoon tea tables where friends may gather for "the cup that cheers" and a lattle chat—great combinations.

friends may gather for "the cup that cheers" and a lattle chat—great combinations.

The whist tables will furnish amusement for those desiring to play cards, rather than talk. What?

And don't forget! The lancy-work table will have the daintiest, most charming things! Just what one wants for birthday and other anniversary gifts. Much thought and time have been given to the assembling of these articles. Give it your attention!

And Club members all! Rally to the call of the Chairman, and the new president, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin. Bring your friends with you. If you are unavoidably prevented from attending, your donation will help the cause, and the party will be the best ever. So "Please Stand By!"

Newton Lodge of Elks will observe Flag Day next Sunday with a parade from the Elks Home on Centre street, Newton, through Centre street, Newton Corner, Washington street, Walnut street, and Elm road to Claffin field, Newtonville, where the formal exercises will take place. The parade will start at 2:15 p. m.

NEWTON NIGHT

Newton Night was observed Monday evening by the Boston Baptist Social Union.

Newton Night is an annual fixture of the Union and the president of the Newton Theological Institution is always the guest of honor.

Besides Rev. Dr. Herrick, the members of the faculty of the Institution and the graduating class were present.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

At Community Theatre Draws a Large Attendance

The interest taken in the subject of Christian Science in this community, is well evidenced by the record attendance at the lecture in the Community Theatre Sunday afternoon. The house was packed and many were turned away unable to get even standing room. The lecturer, whose subject: "Christian Science: The Revelation of God's Presence and Power," was introduced by Wentworth P. Barker, First Reader of the Newton Christian Science Church in these words:

| Ikke God. In fact, they mean salvation from materialism and all its disastrous materialism and all its disastrous was and all its disastrous materialism and all its disastrous materialism and all its disastrous materialism and all its disastrous results.

| PRESENT-DAY SYSTEMS |
| Christian Science recognizes that when, in obedience to the teachings of Christ Jesus, they take upon them selves the obligation of disproving and denouncing materialism and its disastrous results.

Friends:

The members of First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton, extended to you an invitation to be our guests this afternoon; we are therefore pleased to welcome you here, and we want you to know that you will also be welcome at the Sunday morning and Wednesday evening services at our church edifice in Newtonville.

We asked you to come here to share with us a lecture of unusual interest and one that makes a direct appeal to the individual who is earnestly and sincerely striving to know the only true God, who in the words of the Psalmist, "forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases."

The lecturer of the afternoon comes for the same and the same an

The lecturer of the afternoon comes from a city across the water that is dear to all Americans.

Christian Science recognizes that when, in obedience to the teachings of Christ Jesus, they take upon themselves the obligation of disproving and denouncing materialism and its systems of thought, systems accepted by the great majority of men, they must be willing and able to prove that these material systems which their fellow-men regard as all-important, are not really conducive to the welfare of humanity. It is therefore in this spirit of helpfulness, and not in any spirit of criticism or condemnation that I am going to draw your attention to a few facts in connection with the present-day systems of science, theology, and medicine. Since these three systems develop and govern ordinary human reasoning, it is evident that if their premises are not to be relied upon, then human thought, which is molded by them, must be far from accurate in its conclusions.

MATERIAL SCIENCE

and one that makes a ureet appeal of the shear of the strategy of the shear of the

in the past, are now the results of This the path which you must follo in the past, are now the results of the severest science and are, therefore, of extraordinary importance. They leave the field free, as it were, for religion and philosophy. To an altogether unsuspected extent the universe we live in is a creation of our own minds. The nature of it is forever outside scientific investigation. If we are ever to know anything of that nature it must be thorough something like religious experience." thing like religious experience that nature it must be thorough something like religious experience."

In order further to substantiate these views it would be quite easy to cite the opinions of many other thinking men and women, who are likewise not Christian Scientists. Indeed it is hard to read a newspaper or magazine these days without running across the trend of human thought in this direction. What, then, is happening in the realm of so-called material science? Simply this: Humanity is realizing that in dealing with material conditions, it is dealing wholly with speculative theories and with a suppositional material universe which mortals have constituted for themselves out of their own material thinking, a universe which has no basic spiritual reality, because it is only a false mortal sense of the true universe, God's spiritual universe. As one considers the past efforts of so-called material science to explain mortal existence, the Christian is reminded of the words of St. Paul to the Corinthians, "For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God."

The next system of human thought to which I would call your attention is the prevailing mode of theological thought. In dealing with this subject I propose to be very brief, because in discussing religious matters it is so easy to be misunderstood and also to wound some one's executibilities and discussing religious matters it is so easy to be misunderstood and also to wound some one's susceptibilities, and this is the last thing that any Christion Scientist would desire to do. As Christian Scientists, we feel as do others that we have the right to disagree with what we consider to be erroneous in any system of human thought, but it is our desire to do this in the most Christilee way, and always for the purpose of helping and not of harming. I may remind you that others have never been hesitant about pointing out what they consider to be the mistakes of Christian Science, and we have never objected to this when it has been done honestly and with the desire to help. At the same time we are always careful to correct the many mistaken views of Christian Science which are offered to the public. The fact is that Christian Science, as the divine Science of God and His universe, admits of no mistakes, because it is the absolute spiritual Science of God and His Christ. It is true, however, that Christian Scientis have by no means yet attained to the perfect understanding or demonstration of this Science. yet attained to the perfect understanding or demonstration of this Science.

O, my people! journeying onward,—
You of Christ's great brotherhood,
Heed the lesson which He gives you,
Written in His blessed word.
Strong and clear and full of meaning:
Come, if you would follow Me,
Down among the poor and lowly;
Here your Christian work must be.

This the way the Saviour trod;
And He teaches this will lead you Into peace and up to God.
"T is in deeds we serve the Master.
Words are idle, empty prayer;
All our Christian life a pretense,
If the deeds are wanting there.

If you will but heed this lesson,
Which the blessed Saviour gave,
Going out into the byways
Seeking those He came to save,
Telling them the wondrous story,
With an earnest heart of love,—
Yours will be a glorious harvest

Christian Science reminds us that the poor and lowly are not necessarily the impoverished. They are the sinner, the suffering sick man, the heartweary, the egotist, the failures in life, those overburdened with cares; also the materialist, whether he be in cottage or in castle, and the sickest and poorest man on earth is the materialist who has put aside God and His Christ for the husks of materiality. Is the religionist of to-day content to go on believing in a God who permits both good and evil? In a material universe in which sin, disease, hate, war, and death seem to be nornal? Is he, likewise, content to pay the price of such beliefs by suffering from these calamities, when, through the teachings of Christian Science, he can learn to overcome them? The spiritual way, Christian Science, he can learn to overcome them? The spiritual ways has been, always is, and always must be the only way of deliverance from evil of every kind, and sooner or later all religionists will acknowledge and demonstrate this fact. The constant flux and change in present-day religious thought indicates that men are inevitably reaching this conclusion, and before long it will clearly be seen and acknowledged by thinkers everywhere that it is the teaching of Christian Science which has forced these conclusions. If religious bodies are going to help and retain the respect of mankind, then they must put aside outworn theories and begin to preach Christ "with signs following." Such preaching is not only Christian, it is divinely scientific. Christian Science reminds us that

HEALING THROUGH DRUGS

HEALING THROUGH DRUGS

The next system of thought we have to consider is the healing of disease through drugs, or what is known as "materia medical." As we are about to consider the subject of material medicine, I should like to draw your attention to a statement of Mrs. Eddy's which statement many Christian Scientists regard as nothing more nor less than a prophecy of the time when our fellow-men and women who have labored long and faithfully in the systems of material medicine will come to work with us and to give the same self-sacrifice in demonstrating the spiritual teachings of Christ through spiritual thinking and living. Mrs. Eddy's statement reads as follows: "We further recommend that Materia Medica adopt Christian Science and that Health-laws, Mesmerism, Hypnotism, Oriental Witchcraft, and Estoteric Magic be publicly executed at the hands of our sheriff, Progress" (Science and Health, p. 441). As in the case of material science I do not propose to tell you what we Christian Scientists feel about the medical system, but I should like to present to you certain well-known facts in connection with this system, facts presented by those who are not Christian Scientists but are themselves adherents of material medicine.

In a magazine called "Truth" which is published in London there is an ar-taught exactly what Mind is and what the form more prolonged than the fund. God includes in Himself all intelligence, activity, and thought.

The writer continues: "The curious point is that this failure is well known to doctors, but is not generally appreciated by the laity, except the sick. It was the famous Osler who wrote: 'Of the action of drugs we know little, though we put them into bodies the action of whilch we know less.' And Skoda: 'We can diagnose disease, describe it, and get a grasp of it; but we dare not expect by any means to cure it.' Professor Sollman, of the American Medical Association, wrote: 'A generation ago therapeutics was an art, promising to develop into a science. At present it cannot be classed as a confusion.' Sir Almroth Wright declared: 'We must admit we have been practising quackery,' and Sir Frederick Treves: 'I look forward to the time when people will leave off the extraordinary habit of taking medicine when they are sick.' Medical mon have arrived at a stage that may be called 'therapeutic inhillism,' which means that not only do they disbelieve in the curative power of medicine, but they know that the medicines they prescribe frements and the curative power of medicine, but they know that the medicines they prescribe frements and the curative power of medicine, but they know that the medicines they prescribe frements and the curative provers of medicine, but they know that the medicines they prescribe frements are the curative provers of medicine, but they know that the medicines they prescribe frements and the medicines they prescribe frements and the more definite, more necessary, and more available to men than Spirit? The sixth synonym for God its dush thus thought the can only does not one desires to express any of the characteristics of divine Mind, God, he can only does not one frequently throughout her writings that the sun order from the same things to express any of the characteristics of divine mantely from the same things the characteristics of divine more telegr quently do more harm than good. In fact, when they prescribe they do not know what is going to happen."

And again: "The general public has great faith in drugs because medicines are able to palliate their pains, though they know not in what cost in cell damage. Moreover, as children, most of us were brought up with a belief in the miraculous virtues of medicine. But the fact is that every medicine in the pharmacopeala is poisonous by nature, because the nature of drugs is to upset the normal functions of a healthy being. All of these drugs can produce some illness, such as cold in the head, sore throat, inchemists, reheumatism, apoplexy, epilepsy, head, ache, delirum, brain fever—in fact, every imaginable disorder; even grave diseases like tuberculosis and cancer. Some people may say that this may be true, but only when administered in too large doses. But it can definite by harmacopoeia."

THE TEACHING OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ABOUT GOD

Having pointed out, in some small measure the advancy researched.

Christian Science teaches that because God is the one and only cause, then man and the universe must be the effect of this cause, and must consequently fully represent this cause. In fact, man and the universe must be like divine Mind. They must therefore be divinely mental; that is to say, they must exist as ideas or houghts of the divine Mind. God; also bey must be conscions and intelligent. They must likewise express all the characteristics which Christian Science has attributed to divine Mind. In like manner, man and the universe must be the likeness of infinite Spirit and so must be infinitely spiritual. Also they must be individualized, since Spirit always individualized, since Spirit always individualizes. ## FLOOD RELIEF

FLOOD RELIEF

Each week since the last week of April the people of Newton have had placed before them by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross the Mississippi River Flood Relief problem. The Newton Chapter now wishes to present additional facts that will aid in attaining a thorough understanding of the situation.

Our Newton quota for Mississippi Flood Relief was originally $6,000; this quota was doubled to $12,000; this quota was doubled to $12,000; the Newton Chapter has already collected and sent to Washington in satisfaction of this quota $15,000; probably by the time the last Newton contribution is received an additional $1,000 will be sent to Washington. Mr. Herbert Hoover, Chairman of the Mississippi Flood Committee has just reported to President Coolidge that all previous estimates have been too conservative and that $16,000,000 will be needed for this relief work. The maximum of relief is being afforded for every dollar expended. Need and not loss is the basis of the disbursement. Up to the 28th May 568,359 people had been aided by the Red Cross and of this number 382,605 refugees continue to receive Red Cross care in camps, concentration points, and in communities. The flood rescue fleet of nearly 1,000 crafts must be maintained intact until about the 15th June. The huge campalgn against disease continues unabated. The relief task has been a stupendous one and will continue to be for months to come.

and will continue to be for months to come.

The Red Cross has undertaken the care and feeding of the refugees; it has supported the local and state authorities in the health work; it has given immediate help to enable families to get a fresh start in life; it is co-operating with the various State Commissions and Agricultural Finance Corporations in reconstruction work up to the point where relief work ends.

Among the interesting contributions to the Newton Relief Fund during the past week are the following: Odd Fellows and Affillated Bodies (proceeds of an entertainment) $222.19

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held an enthusiastic meet on their range at the Newton Centre playground Saturday afternoon. About a dozen and a halt took part, most of them men. Although the weather was ideal for shooting, no record scores were made. Archers are now practicing for the Eastern Archery Association tournament at Deerfield, Mass, June 30th, July 1st and 2nd. The secretary-treasurer, Miss Ruth Brewer of Institution Avenue, Newton Centre, reports that this is going to be a large and interesting tournament.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

attributed to Spirit, God. As the effect of infinite Soul, man and the universe must be sinless, for Soul is sinless. Also they must be immortal and they must express the joy and bliss of Soul. They must express and reflect all the characteristics attributed to Soul. Because the divine Principle, Life, Truth, and Love is their cause and creator, then man and the universe must express the characteristics possessed by Principle, Life and Truth, and Love. As the ideas of divine Principle, God; and they must in a degree be as perfect as Principle is perfect. As the effect of infinite Life, man and the universe must be deathless; they must be inorganic and incorporeal and yet permanent, eternal, and indestructible. Since they proceed from infinite Truth, man and the universe must reflect the nature of Truth. They must therefore express the eternal healing, saving, and redeeming power of God, for Truth must ever be a perpetual law of annihilation to any belief of evil. In fact, they must express the nature of the sons of God. Because God is Love, and is the only cause, then man and the universe, as the effect of divine Love must manifest Love. They consequently can never know fear or hate. They must always express the tender Motherhood of God, which is made manifest in inexhaustible Love and which always carries with it infinite healing power.

THE COMING OF THE CHRIST

Could any thinking man feel any regret when he discovers that the poor sick, sinning, and dying mortal is not his true being, but is only a temporal falsity, or a false mortal sense of the true man? Could he fail to rejoice when he finds that his true being is God's own likeness, wholly spiritual or divinely mental, infinitely individual, forever conscious and intelligent, always expressing the divine perfection and harmony and manifesting eternally God's nature, presence, and power? To one who realizes somewhat of the nature of God and the real man there can only come the first faint whisper of that sweet command, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." This individual now understands that the divine perfection is the only true state of being, that it is the normal and natural state of being. Through this understanding he at once begins to give glory to God. He also begins to deny and overthrow the testimony of the physical senses and of material reasoning which tell him that man is mortal, sick, sinning, and dying. Then he gains some small sense of what Mrs. Eddy meant when she wrote (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 17): "And before the flames have died away on this mount of revelation, like the patriarch of old, you take off your shoes—lay aside your material appendages, human opinions and doctrines, give up your more material religion with its rites and ceremonies, put off your materia medica and hygiene as worse than useless—to sit at the feet of Jesus." The result of this understanding will be that the individual will gain enough of the Mind of Christ to heal and save himself and others from materialism and its effects—sin, disease, and death.

My friends, earthly systems are failing. Creed and dogma and materialism and its effects—sin, disease, and death.

My friends, earthly systems are failing. Creed and dogma and materialism and its effects—sin, disease, hand a way en passing away, the reliance on things material is proving to be indeed a broken reed, and as was foreto Could any thinking man feel any re

and effort practically to apply this understanding to every detail of mortal thought and experience, constitutes true prayer. Such prayer is irresistible because it is the appearing of God's to be a such as the result of that spiritually and scousess, true intelligence, and spiring in the property of the spiritual thinking in the spiritual power, he is in some small measure manifest the divine nature because man is in reality God's own likeness. As an individual constantly strives in his daily life to think spiritually and to put this thinking into practice he then begins to pray the only prayer is that truly counts. Such prayer is constant and consistent, or, as Paul terms, it, "without ceasing." The world cannot realize too soon that the Christian understanding of God, and of spiritual reality, and the practical application of this understanding in the daily Christian life constitutes true prayer. Such prayer is divinely scientific and is intelligent beyond mere words, for it reflects divine intelligence. The Christian Scientist knows that he does not reform the sinner or heal the sick merely through that momentary prayer which he prays when called upon for help. It is the constancy and persistence of his Christilke thinking and all vining which enables him to receive "directly the divine power." (Science and Health, p. 192). Let me give you a simple but convincing instance of prayer. A small child, who is a Christian Scientist, was asked to help her mother who had been suffering a great deal. The child at once commenced to pray, and in a short while her mother who had been suffering a great deal. The child at once commenced to pray in this manner. Put aside to pray in the same the side of the perfect man is as he had been taught to do in Christian Christian and divinely scientific manner utilized the eternal facts of the perfect of od and this perfect man is as he had been taught to do in Christi held on Claffin Field on Saturday last and with all due thanks to the weath and with all due thanks to the weather man, the day proved to be a grand success. The events on the field were preceded by a parade which marched around Newtonville square led by motorcycle police and the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps. These were followed by automobiles in which rode his Honor Mayor Childs and Fire Chief Randlett accompanied by prominent Girl Scout officials. Next in line came fire apparatus, a bicycle patrol, stretcher bearers, pony riders, goat carts, clowns, performers and Girl Scouts.

Successful Event at Claffin Field Last Saturday Afternoon

goat carts, clowns, performers and Girl Scouts.

After the parade a short circus performance was given in the ring roped off in front of the grandstand on the field. The Bugle and Drum Corps led of with some snappy march tunes and it was followed by clowns, acrobats, performing animals, obstacle races, and a Boy Scout demonstration. After the performance the audience scattered to all parts of the field to visit the many attractions assembled there. the many attractions assembled there Throughout the afternoon the soft drink counter organized by the Wabar troop committee was the center of such a rush of business that at moments it seemed about to be completely swamped. Its only rival was the bubbler fountain with its long line of thirsty children marshalled by a kindly policement. The sun was hot but ly policeman. The sun was hot but that did not discourage the crowd which wandered back and forth from which wandered back and forth from soft drinks to side shows and ice cream to Punch and Judy, with a pause at the Gypsy Encampment in the middle for a fortune or a grab from a great iron kettle. Then on to the games for a try at a wrize or a cane. One of the features of the afternoon was the real Harvard football lowed by an address by the Rev. the games for a try at a prize or a cane. One of the features of the afternoon was the real Harvard football as igned by George Owen, which was offered as a prize in the Game of Bull. See that the game of Bull. W. Newton. The water ball given as a prize in the muffin tin game was a prize in t was responsible to supper the water line was forming. The Punch and Judy show was given by Miss Ethel Freeman of West Newton, and the Prize Piglets, lent for the occasion by Mr. Jenness of Waban were exhibited by members of Troop 14 from that village. A first aid tent with all the necessity equipment and a trained nurse was in a prominent place on the field, and we are thankful to say that the business transacted therein was very few and very far between.

The Girl Scouts feel that many thanks are due to many people for their aid in making this circus a success, and they wish they might express them as warmly as they feel them in their hearts. They are grateful to the mayor and other city officials for their aid and for their participation in the parade and to the playsround and school departments for the use of Claffin Field and the High School gymnasium. Also to the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts for the efficient service that they gave in taking tickets, ushering, performing, and cleaning up. This was a true grateful for it. And last but far from least, deep thanks are offered to the weather man for providing a June day of sunshine and breezes, an ideal day for young and old to "Go to the Circus."

PLAN OUTING

LARGE TROPHY Men Well Attended

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club. A large number of members was present to enjoy the most interesting meeting yet held by this live organization. President Harold Moore presided and an excellent dinner was served by Caterer Andrew Schwer of "Paxton's." New members in attendance included Albert T. Stuart, William Gibson, Peter Dugan and George Luchini. Larry Frederlicks and his orchestra enlivened the gathering with their "peppy" music and singing was enjoyed under the direction of "Eddie" King, who with George Dolan contributed solos. A pleasant surprise was the unexpected appearance of Joe Antonell who entertained with several tenor selections. As we go to press we have received the information that the Newton Graphic was the winner of a large trophy in a national advertising contest. Announcement was made at the convention of the National Editorial Association in Omaha, Nebraska. The cup, standing about three feet high, was offered last year by the Bonnett-Brown Corporation of Chicago, to the weekly newspaper holding membership in the N. E. A. which showed the greatest progress in advertising during the calendar year. Last year the Graphic won second place in the contest. Points were awarded upon largest increase in advertising over preceding year, layout, typography, etc. The cup, which is valued at nearly $1000 must be won three times for permanent possession.

George Dolan contributed solos. A pleasant surprise was the unexpected appearance of Joe Antonelli who entertained with several tenor selections. A representative of the Gorton-Pew Company showed moving pictures depicting the fishing industry.

George P. Brophy, President of the West Newton Business Men's Association addressed the meeting. He told of the development of the business section at West Newton, where old buildings are being replaced by modern structures. He called attention to the new manufacturing enterprises established in that village, the large amount of freight handled there by the Boston & Albany, and the desire of many West Newton business men and residents for the erection of a "movie" theatre in that section, Mr. Brophy praised the results achieved by associations of business men in promotting more friendly relations and improving business. He advocated a change in our building code so that apartment houses can be erected in business zones instead of unsightly one-story business blocks. Such apartments will improve the appearance of the city and will furnish relief from high rents. He also prophesied that more Newton people will trade at home as traffic conditions in Boston become increasingly more congested.

The Newton Business Associates will hold its annual outing at Pemberspersed by music, by the pupils, fol-lowed by an address by the Rev. Richard Quinlan, Diocesan Director of Parochial Schools. Diplomas were presented by the Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, pastor of the Church of Our irade at home as traffic conditions in Boston become increasingly more congested.

The Newton Business Associates will hold its annual outing at Pemberton Inn on July 20th. A committee is at work arranging details.

Following the meeting the outing committee consisting of George Campbell, Watson Baker, John Burns, Edgar Burkhardt, Wilfred Chagnon, James Donahue, Albert Douglas, Frank Fell, Fred Hawkins, Ralph Patterson, Harry Stevens, Albert Walker, George White and Warren Brimblecom, met to arrange plans for the regular summer outing which this year will take place on Wednesday, July 20th, at Pemberton Inn.

John T. Burns was elected general chairman of the committee and the following appointed chairmen of the various committees, Harold Moore, dinner and entertainment; Harry Stevens, transportation; George Campbell, prizes; Edgar Burkhardt, sports; Albert Walker, tickets; and Warren Brimblecom, publicity.

It is planned to leave prompty at 12:30 from a point to be announced, later and upon arrival at the Inn dinner will be served. Following the dinner will be furnished, a program of sports will be arranged. This includes a ball game and the Newton Corner players, remembering their victory of two years ago over an all-Newton nine, have remembering their victory of two years ago over an all-Newton nine, have remained to the other members of the class.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

CLEAR CLAIM ON TITLE strides. Seeley, with a handicap of three minutes was the next man to finish more than two minutes later.

CLEAR CLAIM ON TITLE

The Newton high school golf team, by reason of its 22 victories in its 23 matches, has established a clear claim on the state scholastic title that none will or can dispute. The only team to defeat the orange and black was the Exeter academy outfit, which has a great team itself and which met Newton on a day when Newton's full strength was not on deck.

The team owes much of its success to its coach, Donald Dewart, a member of the faculty at Newton high. He had practically a veteran team from the previous year to work with, Nick and Pat Gianferante, Tom Manning, and Bill Benger forming a nucleus. With these four, in addition to Ted Cady, Dick Clancy, Pat Caruso, and Steeve Wasilevski, made up this year's outfit and under Dewart's direction have advanced far in the great Anglo-Saxon game. Everyone of the boys is able to shoot around with an average of 80 and several of them get down close to 70.

One must not overlook the interest in golf among those who do not make the varsity team. Fifty-two boys were actively engaged in the sport this past spring and scores attended the matches, most of which were played on the Albemarle course. Newton not only had its varsity team but its junior varsity, intermediate varsity and freshman groups as in other sports. With such interest in the game at Newton kigh standard set by the golf teams of the past few years will be kept up by the succeeding outfits. Already the authorities have had requests from 30 other schools for matches for next year and can not begin to satisfy the demands made upon them.

ANDRES WINS DICKINSON CUE

Harold Andres, one of the several three sport athletes at Newton high school, has been awarded the Dickinson Memorial cup for proficiency in athletics and studies. The presentation was made at the graduation exercises last Friday by E. Marion Roberts, president of the Massachusetts Coaches Association. Andres is the first recipient of the cup as it was offered by the association following the death of the late Mr. Dickinson.

The winner of the cup has had a prominent part in high school athletics the past few years in football, hockey and baseball. He was centre on the eleven, captain, last fall, and would have been an all-scholastic choice but for an injury which put him out of the game near the end of the season. In hockey he has teamed with John Proctor, another three-sport star, on the defence and was an all-scholastic choice the past winter. He made the baseball team last season, playing in the outfield. This year Coaches Brownell and Sullivan transformed him into a catcher. In this He made the baseball team last seas to son, playing in the outfield. This year Coaches Brownell and Sullivan transformed him into a catcher. In this position, without any previous experience he made good with a vengeance thand was a threat to all the opposing pitchers. In addition to his athletic prowess he has maintained a high scholastic record. Andres is planning to enter Dartmouth in the fall.

DeMILLE MAKES ALL-SUBURBAN

Spencer deMille, first baseman of the Newton high school baseball team this past season, was the only member of the squad to make the All-Suburban league team selected from a vote of the coaches of the six teams represented. The tall Newton first sacker received votes from the Cambridge Latin, Everett and Somerville mentors while Fisher of Everett was the choice of Connors of Brookline, McLaughlin of Rindge and Brownell of Newton. deMille also led the Newton team at bat and his hitting in the leanup position was responsible for many Newton runs.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We have received a very interesting etter from Mr. Wilfred A. Wetherbee one of Newton's oldest young men of a family which settled in this com munity in 1628, was born in this city 79 years ago, and is an authority on Newton of the days gone by. He is Newton of the days gone by. He is a veteran of the Civil War and has long been nationally prominent in G. A. R. circles. He says, "I have been much interested in some of your recent articles, notably the one last week regarding the Lincoln School the early history of which you stated you could not find out much about. As I was a member of the first class that was housed in that building, I feel I can give you a correct statement re-I was a member of the first class that was housed in that building, I feel I can give you a correct statement regarding it. In 1853 the only school building in Newton Corner was the Richardson St. School, which was on the corner near the Rail Road. In the building was a Primary, intermediate, Grammar and a little later a High School. The Primary and Intermediate (we had no Grade Schools in those years) were on the lower floor. In 1854 the Primary School became so crowded that it was found necessary to divide it and a new building was started on the corner of Pearl and School (now Thornton) Streets. The pupils living on the South Side of the Rallroad remained at the Richardson St. School. The children of the North Side, (of which the writer was one) while the new building was being erected were placed in the vestry of the old Eliot Church. We were moved into the new building even before it was entirely ready, the writer having to sit on the iron stand on which the little arm chairs then in use, the first day. Only the lower story was finished but the upper floor remained unfinished for a number of years. Miss S. M. Duncklee who passed away only a few years ago was the first teacher of that school, and was loved by all the scholars. The writer was 7 years old at that time and three years later was made the janitor.

Again. A few weeks ago you spoke of the Middlesex Hall building, but Murphy No Puzzle To Exeter Exeter academy won its annual baseball game with Andover Academy last Saturday 11 to 5 on its home field.
Eddie Murphy, former Newton high pitcher, started on the mound for Andover but seven hits, poor support, and a base on balls brought seven runs in and Murphy gave up the task.
Carleton McCullough, last year's Newton captain, and now Exeter rightfielder, had a part in the onslaught of Murphy when he singfed to left field tscoring two of his teammates. He also scored later on singles by the two succeeding batsmen.

old at that time and three years later was made the janitor.

Again. A few weeks ago you spoke to the Middlesex Hall building, but a said nothing of its history prior to Sumner's occupancy. The building was erected about 1860. The hall up stairs was called Middlesex Hall and was in constant use as a hall for many years. Religious meetings were held there on Sundays. Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., was organized there in 1868. On the ground floor where the Sumner store was later established, was a grocery store run in 1861, 2 and 3 by Lyman G. Stevens. He sold out to John Warner, who later moved into the store corner of Elmwood and Centre streets. The other store afterwards occupied by George Robbins as a shoe store was first occupied by two ladies as a Millinery store. The old house afterwards moved back into the yard next to the Hall building formerly stood out on a line with the front of the Hall. The writer was born in the old house now standing in rear of the Taylor building directly opposite the Old Bank grounds. In those days it stood out near the street line. If you desire to make a story out of any of the foregoing you are at perfect liberty to do so. Please publish some more of the old land marks. They are interesting to some of us." Among the Northeastern University athletes who were awarded baseball letters recently were Neil T. Mahoney, catcher, of Newton Upper Falls, and Leo F. Crowley, pitcher, also of Upper Falls. Mahoney is a sophomore and has two more years of eligibility while Crowley, who saw considerable service in the box this past season and performed very creditably, is in the freshman class and will be available for three more seasons. Rufus Bond, assistant playground director for the City of Newton and a former Everett high and Harvard star athlete is the Huskies coach.

School Athletes Win Letters

"Bill" Pike is both the victim of "hard luck" and the possessor of a charmed life. Several weeks ago "Bill" was standing on a post at the corner of Homer street and Commonwealth avenue, installing electrical equipment for a street traffic signal, when a motor car operated by a lady who was a new driver collided with the post. "Bill" escaped with a slight injury to one hand. Last Friday "Bill" was standing alongside his old friend, the late Louis Ross, when the latter started to fire a bullet into the case of torpedoes at Waitham. Fortunately for Pike, the revolver Jammed on the first attempt at firing, and he had time to walk back 20 feet, and so escaped fatal injuries when the explosion occurred.

Residents along Waverly avenue are hoping that the street will be restored to decent condition as soon as possible. They think that a sufficient length of time has passed, since this main thoroughfare was torn up to enable gas mains to be laid in it, to have the street property resurfaced.

tion during the World War.

The tragic loss of life each year by drowning has led the local Chapter of the American Red Cross to institute one of the most far-reaching campaigns for water safety that has ever been attempted in this locally. In classes, by demonstrations, and individual instruction, every swimmer will be given an opportunity to become a Red Cross Life Saver, thoroughly qualified to care for himself and protect others in the water.

Of special benefit to the police and and protect others in the water.

Of special benefit to the police and fire deparments will be the instruction in the Prone Pressure method of artificial resuscitation. The only equipment required to resuscitate by the Prone Pressure method a person overcome by water, gas or smoke are two good hands and a level head. It is declared to be the simplest and most effective method of resuscitation ever evolved.

Soon afer a New York policeman ever evolved.

Soon afer a New York policeman had finished his course in Red Cross Life Saving he saved the lives of two people overcome by smoke by using the Prone Pressure method. Numerous instances are on record where police and firemen have saved the lives of gas, smoke and electric shock victims by applying what they had learned in Red Cross Life Saving courses.

KIWANIS CLUB

What would you do if some one were drowning? Could you spring to the rescue, bring him to shore, perform resuscitation if necessary, and save a life? Or would you have to look on in terrible helplessness while a life was lost?

A drowning person needs help—not company. Expert life savers say that if you can't help him, you had better stay away. To be a good swimmer is one thing; to be a life saver involves something quite different. Drowning people are for the moment endowed with almost superhuman strength. Comparative weaklings have been known to drag beneath the water with them capable swimmers much stronger than themselves.
Each day 18 people drown at America's basehes, lakes, ponds and rivers.
This month will claim its toll of over 540 lives—the next 12 months their 650. Enough people have been drowned in this country in the last leven years to fill the great Yale bowl. They outnumber more than two to one America's losses in action during the World War.

The tragic loss of life each year by drowning has led the local Chapter of the Newton Kiwanis Club met Tuesday at Norumbega Park restautant Tuesday at Norumbega Park restauty ant with want will represented at this convention, and the southern city was lavish in its list and the southern city was lavish in its sistupt and its tributaries. John C. Hayes, who formerly resided on Park street, Newton, and on Greenough street, Auburndale, died last Thursday at Brooklyn, New York, where he had resided in recent years. His funeral service was held Monday morning from the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Interment was in Mount Benedict Cemetery, West Roxbury. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Katherine Ryder of Brooklyn, New York.

ODD FELLOWS 40TH ANNIVER-SARY

Newton Lodge of Odd Fellows will observe its 40th anniversary tonight at the club house, 15 Southgate Park, West Newton. Combined with this affair will be Oldtimers' Night and all veterans who have been in the order 25 years or over, will be presented with a veterans button. Much interest in this event is being manifested throughout the city among Odd Fellows and their relatives.

"STUNT NIGHT"

The annual Stunt Night and Strawberry Festival of the Methodist Church of Newton last Friday evening was attended by about one hundred and fifty of the church members and friends. The program was a varied one and both young and old took part. Mrs. Charles Smith was chairman During the entertainment ice cream, strawberries and cake were sold, also home made candy. The event which comes each year in June is becoming one of the popular entertainments of the year.

secretary Warren Hollis, Jr., made an extensive report of his trip to the Kiwanis convention at Memphis, Tennessee, last week. New England was well represented at this convention, and the southern city was lavish in its hospitality to the delegates. Mr. Hollis gave some idea of enormous extent of the flooded area along the Mississippi and its tributaries. Memphis situated on a high bluff escaped the ravages of the flood, but across the river in Arkansas, the country was under water for a distance of 17 miles inland from the west bank of the big stream.

The directors of the Newton Kiwanis Club voted to hold the meetings during the summer months at the Norumbega Park restaurant. The annual outling of the clubs composing the 5th Division of the New England Kiwanis Clubs will be held at Norumbega Park on July 13th.

EDITORIAL

If the millions who enthused over Lindbergh at New York on Monday had each contributed a little to the relief fund for the Mississippi flood sufferers as a tribute to the "hero of the hour," some real good would have been accomplished. Why not have "Lindy" tour the country to collect money for those of the 600,000 victims who need assistance?

Newton lost a loyal citizen when Louis S. Ross met his tragic death last Friday. He was genuinely fond of this, his native place. Many cherished him as a true friend. Those who knew him best esteemed him

ROTARY CLUB

The speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club was Mr. Harry W. Fitts, vice-president of the New England Structural Steel Company and a prominent and active member of the city government. Mr. Fitts, subject dealt with structural steel in the construction of the modern theatre and was interesting as well as instructive to the members present.

Using the new memorial Keith theatre as an illustration Mr. Fitts explained that the modern methods of building demanded structural steel in theatre not only for fireproof reasons which eliminates the use of wood but because it relieves the architect of the necessity of employing columns in the middle of the auditorium to carry the load. The Keith Memorial theatre and the Metropolitan theatre in Boston are both fine instances of such construction. Another trend of modern construction is the abolishment of the second balcony which in oldtime theatres was regarded as a necessity. In the Keith theatre Mr. Fitts said that 2200 tons of steel were used with no two pieces of structural members alike because of the peculiar shape of the lot upon which the building is built. One of the heaviest trusses placed in this building weights 161 tons and between twenty and twenty-five thousand rivets were used. Using the new memorial Keith thea

BOOZE SEIZED AT NEWTON

A long, long trail ended just after midnight Thursday morning when Serg. Moran, with Patrolmen Frank Feeley, John Foley and Pollock raided the house at 7 Peabody street, Newton, and seized three gallons of alleged whiskey in the room of Peter Lacroix, who lodged there. The "hard stuff" was in pint bottles, two of which the police claim Lacroix had sold to Pollock, who is a new member of the police.

The police have suspected Lacroix of bootlegging for several months, and their efforts to obtain evidence against him reached a climax Wednesday afternoon, when, according to their testimony, he sold a pint of "throat tickler" to Pollock. At midnight Wednesday, Pollock purchased another pint of the lilegal likker from Lacroix, so say the police. The raid followed and the large quantity of liquor was found. Lacroix was in court yesterday morning, and his case was continued until next week.

Description of property: 17-19 Gerard Court, small single house which has been remodelled for two families, having four rooms to each side with separate entrances. There are oak floors, electric lights and 7000 square feet of land more or less. Each side rents for Twenty-five Dollars per month or $800 a year.

23-23A Gerard Court, two-family house with seven rooms to each side. Separate front and rear entrances, oak floors, electric lights and 10,000 square feet of land more or less. Each side is now rented for Thirty-five Dollars at Terms of sale. A total cash payment of 700 Dollars on each parcel is all that will be necessary. Two Hundred ($200) Dollars to be paid down at the time and place of sale to blind the bargain. Five Hundred ($500) Dollars to be paid in cash on final passing of papers. The balance to be taken back as a first mortgage at 6% by the seller if so desired. Said mortgage to be payable monthly as rent. There will be a positive sale. As the terms and conditions of the sale are so unusually reasonable we advise rent payers, home seekers, speculators and investors to attend, as those who mean business will get a real bargain. ## BOY SCOUTS

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board of Norumbega Council was held at Council Headquarters, 259 Wainut street, Newtonville, on Monday evening, June 13th, with 1st Vice-president Grosyenor Marcy in the chair. Present were Messrs. Frank A. Day, Arthur L. Shaw, C. H. Cobb, Maynard Hutchinson, A. P. Hartshorn, Philip L. Warren, E. S. Drowne, James C. Irwin, James R. Warren, Julius Ramm, John M. Woodbridge, Jr., Commissioner, Portmaster R. H. Brown of the Seascout Department and L. A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive.

Reports were submitted and acted upon for further development of organization and program for Scouting. in Newton during the part of the balance of the year.

upon for further development of organization and program for Scouting, in Newton during the part of the balance of the year.

The Seascout Committee report, particularly, told of the inspection of Ship 13 by Thomas J. Keane, National Seascout Director, and his meeting with the Seascout Committee on Friday evening, June 10th. Mr. Keane proved a tremendous inspiration to all the men in every way. He was much impressed with the work and organization plans in Norumbega Council, stating that plans for re-organization of the local Seascout Department may be adopted by the National organization as the most logical and thorough-going he has ever seen. Scout Council summer camps have proven very interesting to the Scouts of Norumbega, so Chairman Drowne of the Camp Committee reports. To date there have been over fifty inquiries at Council headouarters about summer camps of Scout Councils. Many boys wanted to go to particular camps and, when the enrollment was filled, those who could not get in have gone to their usual summer camps. It is quite apparent that there is a big and growing demand for a Norumbega Council summer camp, where the Council will be able to care for its own Scouts instead of parcelling them out. The Camp Committee states that it plans to visit Norumbega Scouts in the various summer camps during July and August.

The following Scouts from this Council are going to Camp Norse, the Cape Cod Council, located on Mashpee Pond, in Bourne: Troop 1, James Colligen, Harry Hatchell, Richard Rogers and Philip Margolin; Troop 15, Robert Reid, Norman Ried, Raymond Case and James Griffith. The following Scouts are going to Camp Menoza, of the Medford Scout Council, located on Lake Kenoza, Amesbury, Mass.: Troop 1, Fred crovost, Winston Sharp, William D. Walker, Jr. and Wilson Walker. There will also be some Scouts going to Camp Massasoit, of the Quincy Council, located on Elbow Pond, in the southern part of Plymouth.

Mr. G. D. Marcy, chairman of the Toop Organization Committee of the sasoit, of the Quincy Council, located on Elbow Pond, in the southern part of Plymouth.

Mr. G. D. Marcy, chairman of the Troop Organization Committee of the Council, reports that he has meetings with many of the Troop Committee chairmen or representatives during the past ten days. The Troop Committee are the groups of men directly responsible, over the Scoutmasters, for the Scout Troops and are vitally necessary to each Troop. The Council is co-operating with them in developing their respective Troops to the highest possible point of efficiency.

Commissioner J. M. Woodbridgo, Jr., reports that three months leave of absence has been granted to Portmaster Richard H. Brown of the Seascout Department. Mr. Brown has worked unremittingly and untiringly in the Seascouts during the past two years and, with the backing of the Seascout Committee, with Philip W. Carter as chairman and a strong active and interested group, has put Seascoutling on its feet.

Talmadge Fletcher, editor of the Norumbeag Scout has been appointed.

Talmadge Fletcher, editor of the Norumbega Sletcher, editor of the Norumbega Sletcher, editor of the is a Mate of Ship 13, Seascouts, by Skipper Morgan Harris, and confirmed by Chairman Albert R. Speare of the hip 13 Committee.

by Chairman Albert R. Speare of the Ship 13 Committee.

Troop 1 held its final official meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, June 14th, and Mr. A. D. Quimby resigned as Scoutmaster. He was presented with a wrist-watch by the Troop Committee and they also expressed their appreciation of his excellent work during the past year or so. Mrs. Quimby was presented with a bouquet of roses from the Troop Committee by Mr. George Taylor and appreciation expressed for her giving up evenings at home with Mr. Quimby that he might work with the Troop.

Mr. Douglas Sloan has been elected Scoutmaster after an absence in New York from Newtonville and will start work immediately with the Troop. He spoke briefly of his plans and asked for support of the parents and friends, which they will continue to give.

Mr. William Breed has resigned as Scoutmaster of Troop 5 after two years' work with the Troop. He is succeeded by Mr. F. W. Gilcreas, who has been Deputy Commissioner of the Council. Mr. Gilcreas has a background in Scouting of almost fourteen years. Major A. B. Hitchcock is continuing as chairman of the Troop Committee.

Deputy Commissioner F. W. Gilcreas and Assistant Scoutmaster Ralph Emery of Troop 5 went to Dedham on Saturday last to act as judges in the Boston 4th District Rally.

Scouts of Troops 1 and 19 were aides at the Girl Scouts Circus at Clafiln Field on Saturday last, assisting at the gate and in giving out programs. Scouts of Troop 1 gave a demonstration in riction-fire and one in signalling.

demonstration in friction-free and one in signalling.

celebration and parade on Sunday last.

The ABC craft of Ship 13 took part in the races on the Charles River Basin last Saturday for boats of that class. She was manned by Seascout George Hutchinson as Skipper and Seascout Newhall as crew. Skipper Hutchinson handled the boat well, taking fifth place in the race. The boat proved herself an excellent sailor in a stiff breeze but a poor drifter, and on the second lap, and final one, the wind practically died out.

The Camp Committee has stated that a full program for The Ohio in the Fall is under way, but is withholding announcement of definite details until early Fall.

Elks Observe 150th Anniversary of Flag on Sunday

While Flag Day fell on Tuesday, June 14, it was observed by Newton Lodge of Elks last Sunday. A parade, which started at the Elks Home on Centre street, Newton, at 2:30 P. M. proceeded along Washington street to Newtonville, and thence through Lowell avenue to Claffin Field. The organizations marching included the Elks, American Legion, Company C, 101st Infantry, and members of the G. A. R. and the Antiers. Music for the marchers was furnished by the WY. D.' band and the drum corps of the Knights of the Holy Cross. The exercises at Claffin Field included an address by Gen. John H. Sherburne, the reading of the history of the "Star and Stripes" by Commander William Mick of the G. A. R., the singing of the "fist Spangled Banner" by Mrs. George P. Brophy, and the salute to the flag.

GREYSTONE BEACH

Another high-class real estate development in year-round residences is in progress at Greystone Beach, Marblehead, at a point between Devereaux and Clifton, and directly on the ocean front. The Sterling Realty Company of Boston is developing a 25-acre tract directly off the state highway which runs from Swampscott to Marblehead. Since the project was launched last May 60 per cent of the 25-acre lot has been disposed of in single and double lots, and in some instances as many as five adjoining lots were purchased to be combined into one.

Unusual restrictions afford protection to residents of Greystone Beach. Besides a 30-year restriction on one-family houses residents will be protected against the type of houses which may be erected. Plans for these must be submitted to the Sterling Realty Company for their approval. Garages must conform to the style of architecture of the house. Two-car garages are the largest which will be permitted to be constructed.

believed to be desirable in the neighborhood. Devices for drying laundry out of doors must be placed behind the houses and also must be enclosed in lattice work.

The main road through the development is 60 feet wide and the branch roads are 40 feet wide, which is equal to the width of the state road at the edge of the section. An imposing gateway of white granite marks the main entrance to Greystone Beach. A plain wrought-iron torchlight on each granite gateway marks the simplicity and artistic treatment of the entrance.

Greystone Beach is ideally situated for its accessibility by schools, vailroad and electric cars.

FIRE AT LUCAS' MILL

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

I am beginning to believe that my investment in summer headgear was a mistake. Furthermore, I wish that I possessed the courage of those men who go about everywhere without a hat. I realize that it is becoming more and more common, this barenews and interest of the state of leaving the vicinity of my own home town without some kind of a hat. In consequence, I permit my self to suffer on a fine day when the flexible of the summer of leaving the vicinity of my own home town without some kind of a hat. In consequence, I permit my self to suffer on a fine day when the summer of the summe

Unfortunately I am not one of those who can sit down and read a book for the sake of killing time. I know that am now making a horrible admission, but absorbing many pages of commonplace writing is to be a difficult job and if I can I always avoid it. When I take up a book it is for the purpose of being entertained. I am not a highbrow, but I like and must have a book that tells me something I do not know. That being the case, you may say I could with profit peruse most any volume.

could with profit peruse most any volume.

Still, I found a book recently which was delightly informative. It was Ernnest Ingersoll's "Birds in Legend, Fable and Folklore." I am sure this splendid work will never be a best-seller for it has been too carefully prepared. Therefore, I am not giving away advertising space, for the market for this particular book is, I regret to say, extremely limited.

This is not one of those profusely illustrated volumes that tell you how to distinguish one bird from another. It is far more profound, although the style in which it is written is fascinating. What it does reveal is the part birds have in mythology, superstition and history. For instance, you will find the explanation of the favorite saying of the older folks—"a little bird told me."

of the older folks—"a little bird told me."

You will be made to understand the reason some people believe the conduct of a bird foretells marriage or death. Why there is a notion that when a bird uses human hair in its nest the owner of the hair will have headaches and late baldness. You will learn whence comes the saying, "I have the digestion of an ostrich" nd why an ostrich is supposed to stick its head in the sand with a feeling that it is unobserved by the world. Let me quote a paragraph: "Now the idea underlying all this faith in the supernatural wisdom and prophetic gift in birds is the general supposition that they are spirits, or, at any rate, possessed by spirits, a doctrine that appears in various guises but is universal in the world of primitive culture—a world nearer to us sophisticated readers."

I can imagine no better book for family reading. I mean by that one of those books in which every mem.

I can imagine no better book for family reading. I mean by that one of those books in which every member of the household, no matter how young or how old, will display intensive interest. To me, it would seem to be the ideal book from which one may read aloud for the edification of everybody in the room or on the front piazza. But then, and I sigh as I write this, trash and twaddle are so much more popular that it is almost useless to expect them to be replaced by anything worth while.

one of the best moves in the interest of the Republican party has been the organization of the Hatfield Club of Massachusetts, named after our own Ex-Mayor Charles E. Hatfield. There is no personal exploitation connected with it. Let that be undertood at the beginning. I happen to be in a position to know and make that declaration without hesitation or qualification. The only thing that "Charley" Hatfield will receive is the satisfaction of having brought about the registration of a large number of Republicans. This is all he is looking for and all that he hopes to achieve. The Republican party ought to thank him.

It appeared that for years Mr. Hatfield has believed that the foreignborn English-speaking citizens have not been urged to become naturalized and registered as they should. He has felt that efforts were made to natural-thing is a splendid example of political activity that is sound of principle and worthy of the effort.

The Government letter-boxes have received a fresh coat of paint. The fact is the more noticable because of the change in color. In place of the well-known grass-green the wielders of the brushes have applied a sort of olive green. Maybe there is a reason, but if it is it must remain, as far as I am concerned, one of those mysteries for which the postal authorities at Washington are famous.

Whether or not the new color is an improvement, I cannot say, for I have not given intense thought to that phase of the matter. I must say that as far as the boxes themselves go there has been no improvement. They are just as difficult to manupulate as ever and quite as easily to render use-less trying to stuff a great wad of printed matter in a slot intended only for letters.

There have been changes in about everything in the line of food, transportation, household conveniences, and whatnot, but we still have the let-ter-boxes that our grandfathers used. Perhaps we should applaud the Government's economy or perhaps no one has come forward with a new device that will permit a person to hold an umbrella over his head and try to lift the heavy slide and stow a letter inside at the same time. All my young life I have been trying to perfect myself in this feat, even to the extent of endeavoring to hold the umbrella handle in my teeth, but my efforts have been unavalling.

But never mind about the boxes themselves. I have no further fault to find with their mechanism. What has always bothered me about them has been the card on the side of each box intended to tell the hours of collection or "Time Boxes Collected" as the legend reads. Intended for the nformation of the mailing-public these hours are both printed and written in ink. As yet "have no further fault to find with their mechanism. What has always bothered me about them has been the card on the side of each box intended to tell the hours of collection or "Time Boxes Co stance from which time (say 24 to 48 hours) would not efface them.

Too bad Newton's part in the Revolutionary War was not sufficiently prominent to have the citizens of the eastern part of the State lay aside their regular business once a year and enjoyed a homemade holiday such as is marked by June 17—Bunker Hill Day.

Here we have a day that is and is not a holiday. I say it isn't because there has been no act passed by the General Court declaring it a legal holiday. Therefore, it has no standing at the national or saving banks or trust companies and without such standing no holiday or individual can expect to amount to much, at least not nowadays.

And I insist that it is a holiday for the very reason that everybody in Greater Boston at least loafs all day or if he goes to business he doesn't stay any longer than is necessary to open his mail, telephone some friend and make a date for a golf game and then hurry out to the inks.

As far as I have been able to learn nobody in Newton thinks of going to Charlestown to take part in the celebration or even look on. That, of course, is something for each one to settle for himself. I should think, however, that the least we might do is to write a letter to the Charlestown Committee on Celebration at City Iall, Boston, and thank them for keeping alive the spirit which provides us a day-off at the expense of somebody else.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Some person must have been "spoofing" a local newspaper man who was telling his readers recently of an incident connected with the old tunnel which formerly ran under the B & A tracks where Centre Place now is located. He related an incident which was supposed to have happened when members of the old fire department of Newton attempted to pull a hand tub through the tunnel, and the piece of apparatus became wedged there. As the tunnel was not in existence until 1884, and the hand-tub was put out of commission in 1868, it is quite evident that the "old timer" who gave him the "information," was fabricating. The tunnel was but 8 feet wide, and less than 7 feet in height. During winter and early spring months it was frequently almost impassable because of the water which collected in it. Another feature for which the tunnel was noted was the number of empty half-pint and pint whiskey bottles which could be found in it almost every morning. The tunnel was used by thirsty individuals who would alight from trains after having arrived from Boston or Brighton. Enterprising youngsters of the neighborhood

We like peanuts, occasionally. We have not eaten many though since 1919. Peanuts, properly prepared, are edible and nutritious. But there are times and places when and where peanuts should not be eaten. It is all right to chew peanuts in one's own home, if alone, or if the other parties present are also masticating the pods which are misnamed nuts. It is an accepted and time-honored practice to eat peanuts at baseball parks and at the circus. But those semi-civilized creatures who munch peanuts in theatres, and in street or railroad cars, should be hung, drawn and quartered. They not only litter the space surrounding them with peanut shells, but masticated by some hungry human in the odor of peanuts as they are being a confined space, is not apt to improve the appetite of those who must inhale this aroma. Smoking is forbidden in public vehicles. Peanut-eating should also be forbidden. So should passengers who have regaled themselves on a repast of sour bread and garlic.

ALDERMEN MEET

In anticipation of warm arguments over the proposed takiling of the land at the "triangle" site for a new city hall, and the confirmation of the appointment of Chief Bernard F. Burke as head of the police department for another year, the aldermanic chamber at City Hall was well filled by spectators on June 6, When President Weeks called the meeting to order at 7:55, Alderman Bliss was the only absentee.

The first matter on the docket was the hearing on the petition of Cashman & Ginsberg for a gasoline filling station at 2299 Washington street, Lower Falls. These petitioners had asked twice before for a permit, and were turned down both times. Frank Cashman, one of the petitioners stated that he had been a resident of Newton Upper Falls for 12 years and that he has not been getting a square deal on this matter. He referred to a business block which he and his partner erected a couple of years ago at Lower Falls and which he claims is of such merit that it distinctly improves that village. He said that for centuries and centuries no such building as this was located at the Lower Falls, and he offered the argument that since he and his partner had invested some money by building this block of stores, they should be given a permit for the gasoline filling station. He expressed the wish that he might possess the vocabulary of Daniel Webster so that he could persuade the aldermen to give him a square deal. He stated that 60 or 70 residents of the Lower Falls have signed a petition favoring the station.

Rev. N. Everett Hanson of 2344 Washington street stated that while he had opposed previous petitilons of Cashman & Ginsberg, now that it is proposed to change the site of the Hamilton School, the element of danger to the school pupils because of the adjacency of the station, will have ecased, so he now is not opposed. William McLaughlin of 21 Atherton Place objected to the permit being granted. He said that if a station is permitted there, the city will have the expense of relocating hydrants, that it has not been de

No opposition appeared against the petitions of Thomas Molloy for a 500 kallon gasoline storage tank at 31 Emerald street; Archibaid Parquette for increasing the storage of gasoline at 2101 Commonwealth avenue from 1000 to 2000 gallons; Albemarle Golf Club for a tank and pump at the corner of Craft street and Albemarle road. The Edison and Telephone companies asked for pole locations on Fenno road, 8 poles; Burr road, 4 poles; Locksley road, 6 poles.

William House and other residents of Wyoming road, Newtonville, asked that this street be improved. Mr. House stated that during the Winter and Spring months the street is impassable for automobiles, and that on rainy days it is so muddy that children using the street need frequent changes of shoes and stockings. No ersons appeared to either favor or oppose the altering and widening of Sargent street at the southeast corner of Centre street.

The Franchise and License Committee reported favorably on granting pole locations to the Edison and Telephone companies as follows: Daniel street, 7 poles; Walter street, 6 poles; Rockland street, 2 poles; Rindge avenue, 8 poles; Lansing, Country Club and Plymouth roads; Court street, 1 pole; Broadway, 4 poles. This committee also reported favorably on the petitions of Salvatore Pinella, 26 Lincoln road, 1 express truck (truck to be kept at Community Garage).

Leave to withdraw was given on the petitions of John E. Crowley for a change of zone on certain lots on

G. Girard, 132 Charlesbank road, 1 express truck (truck to be kept at Community Garage).

Crowley for a change of zone on certain lots on Commonwealth avenue near Read Court; Salvatore de Filippo change of zone for land on California street near Bemis Road; Mary A. Sweeney for use of Boston & Albany land at Centre street bridge to erect a small building.

Claims for damages for personal injuries received from Angelo Russo, John D. Breck and Virginia Batterman were given leave to withdraw. A claim of $750 was awarded to Edward J. Mulvihili, a manufacturer of concrete blocks on Harding street, because of losses he sustained to his business as a result of a sewer being constructed through that street. Thomas S. Dolan was awarded $10, and D. B. Wheeler was awarded $14.50 for damages to their automobiles occasioned by a defect in a street and a city employee backing a truck into a car.

The Woodland Sand & Gravel Company was granted a permit to erect a temporary building at its property on Washington street, Lower Falls.

ber of the Board absent was Alderman Bliss.

The first matter on the docket was the hearing on the petition of the Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company for a permit to erect a seven-car private garage at 285 Newtonville avenue, and to install a gasoline tank of 1000 gallons capacity at the same location. No one appeared to oppose this petition. On the matter of relocating and widening Ward street on the northeasterly side from Hammond street to Reservoir drive, a Mr. Harwood appeared for C. Grafton Ward. He said that "Mr. Ward is not opposed to having the traffic hazard on Ward street lessened, but it is proposed to take more land than is necesary on his property; a strip varying from two oleven feet in width. The most dangerous spot is opposite the reservoir, further down the street. Mr. Ward is to build a new house and to take the strip would put this house out of line. Mr. Ward also objects to the widening as planned, because it will cause the destruction of a number the widening as planned, because i will cause the destruction of a number of beautiful old shade trees which were planted by some of his ancestors were planted by some of his ancestors the family having resided in Newton for centuries. Mr. Ward and City Engineer Morse have discussed a plan which should be satisfactory and which will necesitate less land being taken, and the removal of but one tree. If this plan is accepted Mr. Ward will donate land under the agreement that he will not be assessed for betterments, and that the city will rebuild a wall."

APARTMENT HOUSES

Many Appear At Hearing Before Aldermanic Committee.

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Aldermen held a public hearing at City Hall on Thursday evening, June 16, on the proposed changes in the building code of this city which will permit apartment buildings to be of second-class construction instead of first-class, or so-called "fire-proof" construction as at present. A surprisingly small number of persons were in attendance at the hearing, not over 25 being in the aldermanic chamber when the hearing was called.

Chairman John Madden of the The Claims and Rules Committee

Apartment Houses in Newton

He said, "Where will we place the apartment houses? According to the proposed amendment they could be constructed any place in the general residence zones, but permits for them would have to be obtained from the aldermen. If the apartments should be confined to business zones, not only would few such buildings be possible, but the already small business districts would be rapidly filled up, and then demands would arise for more business zones. To allow them to be built throughout the general residence zones with aldermanic approval, would cause a repetition of the dissatisfaction occasioned by the granting of permits for gasoline filling stations. If certain areas are zoned for apartment houses, some may object to treets lined with brick walls, as at Coolidge Corner. The first question is, 'Should we adopt the amendments to the building code which will allow upartments to be built more profitably?' The second question is, 'When will we allow them to be built?''

Building Commissioner Chadwick syndamed, some of the details in the

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

TAKING COURSE UNDER ZUPPKE
Coach John L. Sullivan, newly appointed mentor at Newton High, left the first of the week for Urbana, Ills., where he will take a six-weeks' summer course under Coach Zuppke, nationally famous instructor and coach will be well represented. Coach John L. Sullivan, newly appointed mentor at Newton High, left the first of the week for Urbana, Ills., where he will take a six-weeks' summer course under Coach Zuppke, nationally famous instructor and coach of Mid-Western Conference championship teams. The course will cover modern coaching methods, particularly those employed in mid-western colleges, consideration of the new rules which will go into effect with the opening of the football season, the use of the lateral pass and other plays. Practical illustrations will be held daily on the football field during the course.

ELECT deMILLE CAPTAIN

Spencer deMille, first baseman of the 1927 Newton High baseball nine, was elected to the captaincy of the 1928 team at a meeting of the letter men at the home of Captain John Proctor on last Thursday evening. The election was almost unanimous. DeMille will be a senior next year and plans to try out for the football team next fall. He played at the initial sack nearly every inning of every game on Newton's schedule this year and led the team at hat. He was at Spencer deMille, first baseman of led the team at bat. He was at base on the intermediate nine arst base on the intermediate nine last season.

"Penny," as he is familiarly known, was the only member of the Newton team to make the All-Suburban team, consensus choice of the coaches of the Suburban league teams, and was also selected as first baseman of Herald all-scholastic team. Tom McCabe, sports writer for the Herald, says in naming deMille over Slavin, Norwood High star, that Slavin is the more sensational player but is not as steady as deMille. Slavin, he goes on to say, does wonderful things and tries very hard, but day in and day out deMille has it on him and the Newton lad is the better hit. Woodlock of the Boston Globe picks Shea of Brighton for his first team and Slavin of Norwood for the second team at first and gives honorable mention to deMille. Both writers give Andres, Spain and Proctor mention behind the bat and as infielders.

Following the final game of the Harvard-Yale series Wednesday afternoon on Soldiers' Field, which Captain Zarakov of the Crimson nine won with a home run in the ninth inning with two down and the tying run on base, a dinner was held at the Hotel Lenox by the members of the Yale squad. There they elected Richard F. Vaughan, '28, of Newton Centre as the captain of the 1928 team. After the conclusion of the hockey season last winter Vaughan was honored with the captaincy of the 1928 hockey six. Seldom does a double captaincy fall upon an athlete in a large college and it is the first time a Newton boy has won that honor at Yale.

After his graduation from Newton high the Yale captain-elect attended Andover academy where he starred in athletics. He is a younger brother of Wayland Vaughan, former Newton high and Yale athlete who shone particularly in tennis. Following the final game of the Har-

His fielding has been particularly beilliant. In Wednesday's game withen shifted Vaughan and Caldwall and hitting better than experted in the chances, four putous and five assists, without an error. He participated in both of the Blue's double plays being the pivom ann on each occasion. At bat he got one single in four trips up but the hit came at a critical time of the game. With Noble, Yale rightfielder on third, Vaughan singled past shortstop in the second inning to score the Ell's second run of the game and putting his team ahead 3 to 2.

Dick Vaughan, Yale athletic star, had a busy day of it in the first game of the Harvard-Yale series on Tuesday of this week. The Newton Centre land, who was shifted from short to second base, a cepted twelve chances, five putouts and eight assists, without an error. Although Yale was beaten, 10 to 6, the Ell team outhit the Crimson, 11 to 9, with Vaughan leading his team at bat. The Newton Archers held an all-day invitation shoot on the Newton Centre playground range Friday, June 17th, with shooting in both the morning and afternoon and basket lunch at mid-day, On Saturday afternoon a group were again shooting.

On Saturday afternoon a group were again shooting.

The event of the holiday was the Cummings Cup competition in the afternoon. This was a handicap shoot, with handicaps given based on scores made April 19th, 650 being par. The American Round at 60, 50 and 40 yards was used for all. The winner was Mr. Stanley A. Stevens of Sherborn. The Newton archer winning highest place was Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of Newton Centre. Mrs. Gray won third place on the list with 754 points against 888 points for Mr. Stevens, Miss Smith of Newton Centre did not enter this contest on account of future wedding preparations. The cup was donated by her fiance, Mr. Henry C. S. Cummings of Brookline to the Newton Archers.

phia Athletics last Thursday at Phila-delphia. The former Newton player got a two-bagger and a home run in four trips to the plate, crossing the plate twice. In the field he accepted nine chances, five putouts and four assists, without an error, and figured in all three of the winners' double plays.

Among the recent recipients of athletic insignia at Andover Academy were three local boys, Eddie Murphy, former Newton High pitcher, who won a major letter in baseball, and William A. Swett of Newton and Theodore H Lee of Auburndale, junior insignia in track

Mahoney With Southies

The Newton Pals were nosed out by the Gate of Heaven Club of South Boston last Saturday in the eighth inning of their game at Victory Field by a score of 4 to 3. The visitors put over the winning counter on a single, a sacrifice and a double. Benny Lyman of the local club was the Pals' star with a home run and a single, while McArdle got two hits out of four trips to the plate. Brown performed well in the box for the Pals, holding the opposition to six hits and fanning seven. Mahoney With Southies

Neil Mahoney of Newton Upper Falls, catcher on the Northeastern University nine this past season and former Newton High receiver, is playing for the South Boston nine in the Greater Boston Twilight League.
In his first game on Tuesday of this week Mahoney singled on one and was hit by a pitched ball on another of his four trips to the plate. Although his team was beaten, he crossed the plate once. The finals of the spring tennis tour-naments conducted by the Burr Ten-nis Association were played last Sat-urday afternoon at the Burr Play-ground before a large number of spec-

Francis Broughton and Abbott Gotshall won the Men's Doubles by defeating F. A. Boggs and George

Ellison Hits Well in Opener
Bill Ellison, Harvard rightfielder, batted for 500 in the first game of the Harvard/Yale series on Tuesday at New Haven. In four trips to the plate the Newton boy got two singles. Both of his hits were practically wasted as the following batter forced him time. In the field he had two putouts, one of which was a beauty.

In the second game of the series it was Bill Ellison again who singled to start the Crimson on its way to a score. Coming to the plate as the first batter in the ninth inning and his team one run behind he promptly pushed a hit past short. Coach Mitchell sent in a faster man to run for him. This runner, Bennett, reached second on a sacrifice but was caught between third and home when he tried to score on Burns' hit. Burns reached third on the play and trotted across with the tying run when Captain Zarakov hit his smashing home.

Lawrence B. Rice, former Yale star, retained his State tennis title last Saturday by defeating Alden Briggs in the final match at the Longwood courts in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. Rice, as in all his matches in the tourney both last year and this year, went through without the loss of a single set. The champion was in top form as his margin of victory indicates but his opponent played well enough to make the affair interesting to the many spectators. Rice's victory gives him permanent possession of the trophy, which he first gained a leg on in 1924. In 1925 he was abroad and did not compete, while last season he won his second leg in almost the same manner as he did Saturday.

It was the Newton Centre man's final appearance in tournaments around Boston this summer as he left the first of the week for his summer. Winners in Tennis Tourney The winners of the finals in the tennis tournament of the West Newton Neighborhood Club last Saturday, June 18th, were as follows: Men's singles, William F. Pratt. final appearance in tournaments around Boston this summer as he left the first of the week for his summer camp in Maine.

TWI-LEAGUE NOTES

Dick Vaughan's bat was the big factor in the Yale victory over Princeton last Saturday when the Blue gained its second triumph of the year over the Tiger. Early reports of the game gave credit for the victory to Bruce Caldwell when the failure of the Princeton management to report to the press a change in the Eli batting order which shifted Vaughan and Caldwell when the saturday order which shifted Vaughan and Caldwell caused the error to be made. Vaughan's single in the second inning started Yale to a two-run rally and his home run in the third brought in the Blue's other two tallies, which won the game. While persons who do not appreciate the artistic may disapprove the expenditure of the extra amount of money used to build an attractive structure for the Street Department at Newton Highlands, those who believe that a neighborhood should not be compelled to endure ugliness in public buildings are satisfied that money was well spent in this case. Those who love horses will also approve of the action of the city in providing comfortable, presentable quarters for the faithful animals that work on our streets. We hope the day is far distant when the city will replace all the horses with motor vehicles.

An alderman voting with a small minority who accuses the aldermen who constitute the large majority on a question, that they are submitting to "the steam roller," is not adding to his reputation either as "a good loser," or a believer in fair play. We notice that those who whine about the "steam roller," do not use this plea when they vote with the majority.

when they vote with the majority.

It should be observed that the opposition to Chief Burke was based on legal technicalities, and on the argument that his subordinates ought to have opportuinty for advancement. No charges were made that he is incompetent or that he has been derelict in the performance of his duty.

The announcement that Clifford Brownell, physical director in the Newton schools, is to resign comes with somewhat of a surprise. During his one year at Newton Mr. Brownell has made many friends, not only among the students and athletes, but among the alumni, faculty, and others interested in the Newton schools and its athletic teams as well. While regreting his departure his friends wish him the best of good fortune in his new and higher position as director. new and higher position as director of physical education for the State of

In the death of Dean Henry P. Talbot of M. I. T. the field of chemistry and education has lost one of its most foremost scientists. His ability, his personality and his interest in his work will long be remembered by his friends and his associates.

BROWNELL TO RESIGN

Clifford Brownell, director of physical education in the Newton schools. Is soon to tender his resignation. Mr. Brownell is to leave Newton to accept a position is director of physical education for the State of Ohio. This fact was imparted to one of the members of the Newton high school athietic teams yesterday.

Mr. Brownell came to Newton in September of last year after receiving his degree in graduate work at Columbia University a year ago this month. He is also a graduate of the Oswego Normal school where he was a member of the major athletic teams. Early this Spring Brownell was appointed coach of baseball following the death of the late Mr. Dickinson.

ARRESTED FOR DRUNKEN

Henry Zoller of 426 Columbus ave Henry Zoller of 420 Collimous a Conuc. Boston, was in court Monday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested last Friday evening by Patrolmen Feeley and Loughlin following a chase which started at Newton Corner and ended on Hunnewell Hill, at the Brighton line. A companion of Zoller's, ended on Hunneweil Hill, at the Brigh-ton line. A companion of Zoller's, James Sullivan of Sharon, threw a bot-tle from the fleeing car during the pursuit, and was charged with break-ing glass on a public highway. Three other men who were passengers in the car were charged with drunkenness. The cases were continued until June 29

With the issuance of the Newtonian there is one matter of considerable Interest in this 1927 volume to all college students, and that is the college that each of the masculine element desires to attend next year. Of course, it is understood that these choices may not materialize for a number of plausible reasons, chiefly the arch-enemy of colleges, the College Boards, but it at least will serve as an indication of the way in which the students themselves lean. This year's class has allowed its eyes to roam all over the green landscape and centred on very few spots. There are those who look toward the Middle West, some that profess a desire to see California close at hand, one daring person who still believes Florida will be worth-while, and then the greater majority still clinging to the old traditions and electing to go to colleges in the immediate vicinity of New England.

As usual the In-Town colleges lead the others in their number of prospective students. Boston University tops the list with seventeen men who wish to enter the Bean-Pot, and Northeastern has some fourteen hopeful prodginges of Steinmetz and Edison clamoring at her gates. In the Boston University list there are the following men: Thomas Alexander of Newton, John Hession of Newtonville, the two Kellaway boys of Waban, Ralph and Robert, Richard J. Leahy of West Newton, George Tomlinson of West Newton, George Tomlinson of West Newton, Elmer Lippin of Newton, Robert Lawson of Newtonville, the two Kellaway boys of Waban, Ralph and Robert, Richard J. PROF. TALBOT'S WILL

The will of the late Prof. Henry P. Talbot of West Newton was filed yesterday in the Middlesex Court at East Cambridge. All his personal belongings are left to his widow, in addition to $20,000 and the use of the home in West Newton during her lifetime. The residue of the estate is left in trust, the income to go to his widow. On her death, according to the provisions of the will, $83,000 will be distributed to relatives. The remainder of the estate is bequeathed to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The will requests, but does not require, that part or all of the bequest be used to assist junior members of the instruction class to attend meetings of societies representing their respective professions.

MISS SARAH J. WALSH

Miss Sarah J. Walsh of 17 Waban street. Newton, a life long resident of this city, died on Tuesday morning after an illness of but one day. She was born sixty years ago, the daughter of the late Patrick and Sarah Walsh. Her funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Church of Our Lady, and interment was in Calvary Cemetery. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Mary Ford of Newton, and two brothers, John Walsh of New York, and William Walsh of Newton. She is also survived by a number of nephews and nieces, one of whom, Mrs. Frances L. Desmond, made her home with the deceased.

EXPLOSION VICTIMS

Peter Brennan of Cabot street, and Frank Buckley of Brookline, who were injured in the explosion of torpedoes that caused the death of Louis S. Ross, are recovering rapidly. Mr. Buckley suffered a fractured leg and a badly torn thigh.

Newton Post, American Legion, has started preparations to decorate the graves of 26 former Newton boys who are buried overseas. These victims of the World War lie for the most part in the large military cemeteries in France where the dead of the American army have been interred. A few of the remains are in isolated places. Commander Julius Ramm of Newton Post has obtained from the Graves Registration Bureau at Washington the location of all the final resting places of Newton's soldier boys, except those of two, who are included in the hallowed list of "Unknown."

At the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Newton Post will request an appropriation by the city to pay for suitable decoration of the 24 graves.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Has anybody written a booklet setting forth the charms and advantages of Newton as a Summer resort?

This question is asked, not for the purpose of ascertaining if the field is clear for an ambitious author, but to learn if such information has been compiled in a single volume. Secondly, if Newton has not been "written up" in this way it stands almost alone. Few places have escaped. Many a city and town has gone on its way for years and suddenly wakened to find itself immortalized by a detailed description of business blocks, historical sites, industrial plants, etc., printed in a neatly bound pamphlet and profusely illustrated with half-tone engravings.

"Why you should visit Newton this."

Why you should visit Newton this "Why you should visit Newton this Summer" would be an attractive title. I will wager a chocolate fudge sundae against a banana split that it would interest Newton people as much as anybody else. They would devour what the author said and swell with pride at the illustrations. That is, I would, and I am merely speaking as an amateur mind-reader and clairvoyant.

For instance, the booklet could contain picture after picture of handsome homes, with spacious grounds, giving the names of the owners and stating, "These people think so much of their home city they leave it in June and stay away until the last of September."

of their home city they leave it in June and stay away until the last of September."

Then there might be views of our beautiful streets, together with the information that "these thoroughfares are kept in perfect condition all Summer long in order that they may be enjoyed by strangers who do not contribute a cent in taxes."

There could also be shown exterior views of our many houses of worship, with the explanation that they are closed during the Summer months in order that the minister and choir may recuperate and give the congregation a chance to stay at home Sunday mornings.

Another feature would be the combination of trolley cars and busses that provide trans-city transportation. A stranger would find this equally absorbing as a cross-word puzzle and even more fascinating should he wish to experiment by working it out on a personally conducted tour of our villages.

Figuring-out our traffic regulations is hardly to be recommended for hot-our villages.

Figuring-out our traffic regulations is hardly to be recommended for hotweather entertainment so I would do no more than mention them in such a booklet.

booklet.

With these scattering thoughts I will close this paragraph, hoping that if anybody has the ambition to expatiate on this subject they will find my suggestions of value.

It is some years since I have felt called upon to act as an usher at that magnificent ceremony called, "ushering-in the Glorious Fourth." All the "ushers" who served with me when I was among the self-appointed of this group of Newton youth, are no longer acting in that capacity, as far as I know. Some of them are not with us, while others have the responsibility

When we say we are counting on a vacation we mean we expect to have what the English call our holidays. To a great many of us the word "counting" is used most advisedly for we are obliged to count, some of us several times, to make sure we have a sufficient amount to spend. It is looked upon by some as a sort of indulgence, but the majority agree that a change is beneficial.

The question is, do all of us take proper advantage of the glorious opportunity for recreation and physical upbuilding? Sometimes I wonder if some people haven't mistaken ideas on the subject. Some seem to go the limit and others deny themselves that to which they are fully entitled. There is, in my opinion, a happy medium, if one knows how to strike it.

I know of one person who makes a fetish of his vacation plans. He subordinates all things to his consideration of booklets, maps, guides, etc. He starts in weeks ahead, consults people "who have been there," cross-examines them as to the character of the roads, the kind of hotels, the sights to see, the food to be eaten and in short overlooks nothing. Possibly he gets a lot of kick out of this, but I have not the vision to see it myself. There is another man whom I know who has almost to be driven from his office by his firm. He said to me once, "I went to work and took a vacation." I'll say he went to work anyway, for he puttered about his house and lawn day and night, fixing this and thand doing odd jobs which workmen would have performed for a comparatively small sum. When it came to return to business he was completely run down. Maybe he thought he was having a good time, but was he?

So there you are, the choice is yours and you must make it yourself. I, for one, am for moderation in vacations. The best I can do is to urge my friends to be reasonable.

I have no suggestions to make as to a fitting program for the day and am satisfied so long as everybody has a good time and suffers no burning regrets on "the day after."

When I took a trip to Europe last Summer I resolved not to return and write a long account of my travels. I also declared that I would not attempt to pick up any phrases or words of foreign speech and endeavor, by repeating them among the home folks, to show my superiority. I think that was a noble resolution and to have kept it was an act that deserves some recognition.

to show my superiority. I think that was a noble resolution and to have kept it was an act that deserves some recognition.

I have proved that for almost 10 months I could keep still about what I saw and what I did. Now, however, I shall allow myself to break the rule. My subject is going to be a little shop in the ancient city of Carcassone, France. The history of the place goes back 500 years or more but I am not going back with it. I prefer to speak to the present and the future.

This little shop was one of the kind you will not find in this country. It was maintained by a man and wife for the purpose of selling seeds. It was a quaint place and on its shelves were packages, jars and bundles of seeds, bulbs, etc. Their labels meant nothing to me but my ompanion was a real scholar and nothing written or spoken in the French language stumped him.

With my companion at my elbow I sat down at the dinky cohnter and pawed over the tiny packets of still tinier seeds. The keeper thought I was an American farmer—I hope a gentleman farmer for I was not garbed as a Yankee rustic. He tried to sell me things that would provide me with a glorious crop of vegetables for the Winter. But I was finicky and hopped around like a canary until I gathered n radish seeds, romaine, chickory, popples and some flowers the names of which mean nothing in French to me. My friend said, "I can tell you the French, but I am not sufficiently familiar with the American flowers to tell the equivalent in English." Therefore, I don't know the names of some of them, I have planted. The radishes came up in five days! This others are peeks ing through the ground and I hope that they may grow. In France they land flowers among the vegetables with charming effect and satisfactory profit. I am out only for the charming effect and satisfactory profit. I am out only for the charming effect of it, and therefore I warn the readers of this column to govern themselves accordingly.

I am about to begin my annual layout of the charming the scolumn for the cou

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have gone on record the past week whereby the property located at 1267-1273 Centre street, corner of Beacon street. Newton Centre, has been conveyed by Lillian Hill Morris to Albert T. Stuart of Newton. The property comprises a two story building of stores and apartments together with 14,000 sq. ft. of land; and the total valuation of the property is $105,000. This is the fifth consecutive sale that the Burns organization have made of this property in the last five years, the value having more than doubled in this length of time. It is the finest corner in Newton Centre square, and this final purchase being for improvement, will mean a great change. It is anticipated that the purchaser intends to demolish the present structure that occupies the land and erect a new brick building of stores and offices, that will be the finest of such properties anywhere in the Newtons.

Burns and Sons report that they have sold for John F. Cooley of Waltham his single house of nine rooms and two baths, together with 7,000 sq. ft. of land, located at 334 Ward street, Newton Centre, the total valuation of the property is $16,500. Robert J. Burns' office also reports the sale for Ferena Gorrill the two family frame house together with two car cement block garage and about 6,000 sq. ft. of land situated at 14-16 Morse street, Watertown. Joseph and Delia Cloherty purchased the property, which is valued at $14,500.

ROSS WILL FILED

The will of Louis S. Ross of Newtonville was filed at the Middlesex Probate Court last week. With the exception of his stock in the Central Railway Signal Company, he left his entire estate to his widow. This stock he leaves in trust, from the income of which Mrs. Ross is to receive $2000 a month, and William S. Whitman, Lester Watson and Walter F. Bacon, of ficials of the company will each receive $100 a month. Upon the death of Mrs. Ross, the will provides that these three officials will receive 45% of the stock and the remaining 55% will be divided equally between Frank Buckley, J. Wiley Edmands, Walter Wedger, Ralph Longden, Frank Slaney, Albert Swing, William Kelly and Otto Bemisderfer, employees of the company. The value of the estate was not given.

off. I hope there will be those who will miss this column, for they will read with greater eagerness when it is resumed.

In closing may I extend my heartiest wishes for a wonderful and glorious Summer to all my friends and in particular to the following:

To the compositor who is obliged to read every line of it each week and who has done so without threatening to go on strike or demanding an increase of pay.

To the writers of letters who have found good reason to remind me of my shortcomings and call attention to that which should be made public and which I may have omitted.

To the city fathers whose conduct has not always pleased me but to Saturday.

found good reason to remind me of my shortcomings and call attention to that which should be made public and which I may have omitted.

To the city fathers whose conduct has not always pleased me but to knom I, as a humble taxpayer, owe adent of gratitude for performing many a disagreeable task without praise or hope of reward.

To the bicycle-riders who find the sidewalks far more preferable than the street and who have not heeded my criticisms, castigations and abuse. To the operators and patrons of trolley-lines and railroads, who still find themselves obliged to accept the service as rendered.

To the police who must watch for all inhabitants.

To those who will be unable to slip way for even a short vacation.

And lastly, to myself, who will miss keeping an eye on all your doings and all the goings-on in nice old Newton.

ABOUT TOWN

We were one of the many hundreds of "easy marks" who were "stung" last week by a scheme that to us, at least, was new. Proceeding one morning along Washington street in our ancient, but active flivver, we were hailed by. a young man who alluringly held out to us a package of soap powder. We shook our head in refusal of his proffered gift, but 50 yards further along another young man jumped almost in front of our CAR, and compelled us to slow down. As a matter of courtesy we stopped the Ford, and permitted him to thrust a package of the powder into our hands as he assured us that it is wonderful for washing automobiles or "anything," Next he handed us a box containing three small cakes of soap which he asserted is unexcelled for shaving, shampooing or for any tollet use. Each cake of soap had imprinted on it the fact that it was sold at 25c the cake, and the price printed on the box was 75c. But, as we accepted the soap and extended our thanks, the philanthropist who gave it to us said, "With each box of this soap that we give you, you must buy another box, and we give you another package of borax powder with it."

Not wishing to appear a "piker" we fell for the trap and paid six bits for six small cakes of soap and two small pacgages of soap powder. In our opinion we paid "a plenty." There were many others. The four young men who were "giving away" the cleaning materials opposite the brick wall bounding the property of St. Agnes School, had large rolls of bills in their possession, so there must have been many who fell into the trap. One of the cars the benevolent quartet operated, bore an Ohio registry number; the other bore a Massachusett segistry number.

We were informed that one of Registrar Goodwin's inspectors observed the soap sellers on the first day they started their operations in Newton, and suggested at Police Headquarters in West Newton that their activities be stopped here. He had observed them working the same game in other cities, and considered the constant stopping of automobiles by them as a

ALBERT EDGAR ANGIER SCHOOL

ALBERT EDGAR ANGIER SCHOOL

The last class ever expected to gradnate from the A. E. A. School in Waban held their exercises in the school assembly hall last Thursday morning at 8:30. Next year the seventh and eighth grade pupils will attend the new Junior High School in West Newton so the present sixth, seventh, and eighth grades all participated in the Graduation Day Exercises.

The gifts presented to the school were: Grade 6—Sum of Money for general fund. Grade 7—Set of Victrola records for a course in music appreciation. Grade 8—Set of books for lower grades—a Victrola in memory of Miss Charlotte Kingman, for the past year the eighth grade teacher, who passed away Wednesday morning, Miss Kingman taught at the F. A.
D. J. H. S. in Newtonville for some years before coming to the Angier
School and gained a name for herself as one of the best arithmetic teachers in the city.

The points for judging the receiver of the American Legion Medal were service, scholarship, leadership, honor, and courage. This award might well be compared to the senior cups at High School for the recipient must stand out among his classmates as the finest type of American youth.

In connection with the Graduating Exercises there was held an exhibition of the handiworks of the 7th and 8th grades. This consisted of table mats and light shades and shields. The mats were made of cork by the 7th grade and painted in original designs, then shellacked and varnished. The shields also were made by this class, of parchment, decorated with landscapes, classic designs and still life and nature painting.

The lampshades made by the 8th grades are decorated with most artistic landscapes and marine sketches together with a few classic designs.
These were finished with shellac and braid which blended with the bright colors.

colors.

These were guarded throughout the exhibition by Robert J. Cram, Fritz Garrison, Jack Brerer and Crawford Ferguson.

The graduating class, of forty-one members, the largest to graduate from this school consisted of the following:

ENE WAVE Steam ON The Hair

T HAT'S wherein the Eugène Methou of Permanent Waving differs from the commonplace. It does not generate steam in the hair. It sprays steam on the hair, wound dry. The long lines of the Eugène wave please the eye. Its gentleness pleases the hair. Ask us about it.

Homer placed it on the west of the earth, near the ocean, and described it as a happy land, fanned by the delightful breezes of Zephynts. According to Hesind and of Zephyrus. According to Hesiod and Pindar, Elysium was in the Islands of the Blessed, in the western ocean (whence arose the notion of the fab-ulous Island of Atlantis), while Ver-gil located it in the underworld, with an entrance near Lake Avernus, in William T. O'Connell, Supposed Campania.

New Use for Sandblast

A novel application of the sandblast has been discovered by an English company—that of cleaning boiler tubes. It is claimed that the tubes of modern tubular bollers are rapidly cleaned of soot, etc., on the outside, and that the interior of each tube can be cleared of scale or other de-posit thoroughly, and at a much greater speed, than by any other existing method. This certainly has the merit of simplicity .- Popular Mechanics.

Lava-Coated Trees in Hawaiian Forest

On the slopes of a volcanic mountain there is a perfect forest of lava trees, which is believed to have been formed many centuries ago. The trees which form this forest are amazingly lifelike, even the grain of bark being represented, yet they are nothing but shells of lava. The way in which this strange forest was formed is interesting. The original trees were of a kind known locally as ohla, a species abundant in the Hawaiian islands. During a terrific outburst on the part of the volcano when the lava poured out in a vast cataract, 40 or 50 feet deep, the whole of a thickly wooded region was over-whelmed. The fluid point of lava is at 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, but came into touch with the trunks and branches immediately solidified, owing to the contact with the cold bark. The main flow of the molten stream swept on, leaving each tree with only a thin coating. This was sufficient to set the wood burning, and, course of time, all the branches and the trunk of the tree were consumed leaving nothing but the lava mold.

Small Fortune Paid for Gutenberg Bible

Recently at Vienna, an American dealer paid $220,585 for a copy of the Gutenberg Bible. It belonged to an abbey in Austria, and the owners had to get official leave from the Austri-an government before they could sell their treasure. They obtained by far the biggest price ever paid for a book

Yet a still higher price is on record as having been once offered. In the Seventeenth century the monks of St. Emeran possessed a notable manu-script of the Gospels, which had been presented to their abbey by the Emperor Henry IV.

The elector of Bavaria admired it so much that he proposed to give these monks the town of Straubingen in exchange.

But they were prudent men. They knew the elector could, and they suspected that he would, retake the town whenever he pleased, so they declined his offer and kept their precious man-

Bible which the dealer bought is a magnificent copy on vellum of the first book ever printed in Europe from metal types.

Moving Pictures Long Ago

Moving pictures Long Ago
Moving pictures are not so very new. The English diarist, Ralph Thoresby, writing as long ago as 1679, says: "I called to see the moving pictures, a curious piece of art; the landscape looks as an ordinary picture till the clockwork behind the curtain
he set at work and then the ships be set at work, and then the ships move and sail distinctly upon the sea move and sain distinctly upon the sea till out of sight; a coach comes out of the town; the motions of the horses and wheels are very distinct, and a gentleman in the coach salutes the company; also a hunter and his dogs keep their course until out of sight."— New York Times.

The Tight Cork

Some things that bother housewives and housefathers, too, can be very easily remedied. Remember the times you have tried in vain to remove a ightly wedged cork from a bottle? The solution, as provided by Science and Invention, is so simple it is and invention, is so simple it is al-most funny. Simply wind a heavy piece of cord twice around the neck of the bottle, leaving long ends. Grasp the ends and pull them back and forth. When the friction becomes great enough the neck will become se hot that the cork will be automatically

Silly Craze for Wealth

When the desire of wealth is taking hold of the heart, let us look around and see how it operates upon those whose industry or fortune has obtained it. When we find them oppressed with their own abundance, luxurious without pleasure, idle without ease, and despised and hated by the rest of mankind, we shall soon be convinced that if the real wants of our condition are satisfied, there remains little to be sought with solicitude or desired with eagerness.—Doctor Johnson.

New Light on History

Julius Caesar and his friend Cas-sius were walking in the forum one day when they met a couple of pretty slave girls. Julius, as was his wont, gave them a glad hello as he passed

Who was them gals?" asked Cassius. "I don't know," said Julius, "but

I'm forum."

It was at that moment that Cassius decided that something must be done to free Rome of this monster.—Detroit

Fox's Race With Train

For three miles a silver fox ran ahead of a logging train at Klamath Falls, Ore., racing over the ties in the glare of the headlight. Seeing that the animal was nearing exhaustion and would not leave the track, the engineer stopped the train. The fox allowed him to pick it up and release it in the brush. Later the engineer learned that the fox had been bred in captivity, had escaped from a neigh-boring fox farm and was worth more

ARTICLE No 12

A bid that is sound in itself, that is, that may contain sufficient strength to make the number of tricks in the suit indicated, may be very unsound in other respects. It may be of such a character as to deceive partner or to enable the opponents to block further bidding by making a shut-out bid. For that reason, before you make a bid, try to figure out what conclusion your partner will draw from it, and then what action he or your opponents may take. If your bid conveys the information to your partner that it should an leaves you in a position to go ahead with the bidding, irrespective of the opponents' bidding, your bid is sound, but not otherwise. Too many players make a bid without a thought of its influence on their partner or of what they will or should do if their opponents overbid. Try to think of your first bid as the beginning of the story and make it only when you are sure you know what to do later. All sound bidding should be part of a harmonious whole, the first link of a chain of bids, and not a disconnected effort.

The following hands are illustrative of the point just emphasized: "Think of what your partner or opponents may do, before making a bid. If you are prepared to meet any action they may take, your bid is sound; otherwise, not."

Be sure that the bid you decide upon is one that you are prepared to meet any action they may take, your bid is sound; otherwise, not."

No score, rubber game. Z dealt, bid one no-trump and A passed. What should y bid and why? Y should look ahead and figure that the only possible bid B can make that would hurt the no-trump bid is one of two hearts. If that is the case, shouldn't he endeavor to prevent that bid, if possible? The way to do this is by a bid of two no-trump. If B should then bid three hearts, Y should double. The bid of two no-trump does prevent a heart bid and enables Y-Z to make game and rubber. If Y passes, B will bid two hearts and game is no longer possible as A-B have six heart tricks, if led. This is an excellent example of figuring out what your opponents may do and then making a bid that will block them. Such bidding is sound, not only because the land justifies the bid but because it also looks ahead and foresees what should be done from then on.

In a number of these articles reference has been made to the folly of rebidding no-trumps after a partner's suit bid just because you hold 100 aces. Game is the object of all sound bidding and any bid that lessens the chance for game, just to obtain an honor score, is unsound. The following hand is a good illustration of what not to do with a hand containing 100 aces:

Hearts — A, 8, 2

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed. Y bid one no-trump and B passed. Z now bid two spades and A passed. Y should have remembered that Z passed as dealer and that his take-out must be from weakness, probably six or more, headed by the queen or jack. If this take-out were the probable one, Y-Z could undoubtedly make game in spades but could not do so in no-trump unless Z had a much stronger hand than the bidding indicated. In other words, game and rubber were a certainty at spades but doubtful at no-trump, Y, however, failed to consider all of these evident facts and bid two no-trump, allowing his judgment to be influenced by his 100 aces. All passed, for Z didn't feel that he should rebid his spades in the face of his partner's denial. B opened the diamond suit and Y-Z lost their hid by three tricks. At spades they could have made four odd, game and rubber. As their opponents scored game and rubber on the next deal, it was a costly error by Y. Don't let 100 aces influence you to

Z
No score, first game, Z dealt and bid one spade. What should A bid? A has the choice of three courses of action.

(a) He may pass, (b) he may bid notrump or (c) he may double informativity. The pass with this hand seems unsound. It is such a strong hand that A should give some indication threef to his partner. If A passed, Y will certainly deny the spade bid so that the pass will be of no value, one way or the other. The bid of one no-trump is fair but gives too much information. Try to conceal the spade strength, if possible, in the hope that Z will bid two spades and thus give A the chance to double. For these reasons, an informatory double seems the proper bid with this hand. Y may bid over this double. If he does, Z may rebid spades and thus give A the chance to double. If Y passes, B may bid clubs or diamonds which suits A's hand. If B bids hearts and Z passes, A should now bid two no-trump. There is a good chance, however, that Z will rebit spades over a heart bid and thus give A the chance to double. Some correspondents even suggested that A will rebit spades over a heart bid and thus give A the chance to double. Some correspondents even suggested that A bid wo spades but this bid is obviously unsound. It gives no chance for game and resigns all hope of obtaining a double if Z rebids spades. All in all, the informatory double seems to offer the maximum opportunity.

with registers in the floor, it is a good plan to keep cans of water hung in the register. Any handy person can make holes in a tin can in which to fasten a wire bale, and this can be hung on a narrow strip of wood laid across the furnace pipe, just below the floor level. A two-quart can will require filling twice a week. This will not only prevent the furniture from drying out, but is an aid to the health of the family, as it keeps the air moist.

square feet of land, and is valued at $16,000.

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that final papers have been passed during the week whereby a tract of land containing over half a million square feet has been conveyed by Joseph Goodman and B. C. Rose to Mr. Charles Hodge of New York, This property which is located in the finest residential district of Newton, surrounded by many of the most extravagant estates of the Garden City, and environed by the Brae Burn Country Club, has a frontage of over 1,000 feet on Commonwealth Avenue, and was valued by the grantors even in its undeveloped stage at over $100,000.

Streets are to be immediately laid out, and the property subdivided into desirably sized home sites, restricted in keeping with the surroundings; and should prove to be one of the highest grade developments undertaken in Newton since the beginning of the building beom. The subdivision has been well named Commonwealth Estates. Several of the lots have already been reserved, and homes of a high calibre and quality will soon be under construction. The sale price of the lots per foot should occasion their quick disposal.

COMMUNICATION

Editor of the Graphic:

I'm wondering why Washington and some of the other streets in Newton, Newtonville and West Newton are being wet down mornings now? It seems unnecessary and makes slippery, dirty driving and is especially dangerous when driving towards the sun on account of the glare.

Yours truly,

Newton Autoist.

When the war ended, and the world seemed vice-ridden, and the underworld claimed its victims: while the night clubs swirled and swayed to the rhythm of jazz and lust, and humanity seemed overwhelmed with sin and crime, and nauseous records in daily tabloids told their tales of thrilling and vicious crimes, and mankind stood aghast and felt disheartened—A vision suddenly appeared to man—a valiant, strong and self-reliant youth, with head uplifted, arms extended, clear, bright eyes looking out into the distance, as the inspired. With a dart forward he seems at once to push asunder the darkness and sin that has oppressed the world. The light shines more brightly and the air seems to take on a different quality—a sudden brightness and freshness which exhibarates while it thrills! The vision leaves the earth, soars up, up; high, higher, into the clouds—above the clouds it soars, into the deep star-fretted sky, with the moon casting its cold silvery light along his pathway, over the surging depths below.

pathway, over the surging depths below.

He is a valiant conqueror, and with him he carries the world in his solitary flight, and it gazes toward the moon and the stars, and breathes in the wonder and grandeur of all that is taking place, and feels uplifted, and relieved to know that it, too, can soar away from all that is sordid and debasing, and rise to highest levels and respond to all that the youthful vision exemplifies of what is valiant, courageous and chivalrous!

The world is not lost while Nature's noblemen abound, and vice and sin can never suppress nor conquer what is right and fine and uplifting, and so the world is made happier and better through the wonderful feat of this dauntless youth!—Captain Lindbergh.

A GREAT SERVICE

One-third of a century in an important post of administration is an achievement of itself. Dr. James L. Barton has laid aside most of the burden which he has been carrying as secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, but promises not to retire entirely from the work which bas been his life. As secretary emeritus he will continue his interest in the problem of Asia.

For a century his board has been taking the leading part in the development of the Near East, maintaining great educational institutions, exalting the arts of peace, furthering general enlightenment, and giving a patient demonstration of the meaning of the brotherhood of ham. During the past 33 years Dr. Barton has guided the work, making himself the friend of the ill-assorted peoples in that tangled fraction of the world.

It is fair to say that the history of Eastern Asia would have been utterly different, and the outlook far darker, had a less ilberal man than Dr. Barton been secretary of the board. In crisis after crisis he has kept his head alert and cool, often advising the Department of State at Washington, and frequently serving as an unofficial ambassador for one of the racial groups.

Many who are indifferent to missions, and many more who have grave doubts of their usefulness, unite in agreeing that such work as Dr. Barton has done brings nearer the long desired good will among the peoples of the earth.—Boston Globe.

Vigilant Watch Kept

on Priceless Books Lining the wails of the reading-room and three large galleries in the British museum, in London, are mil-lions of books. Some are the only existing copies, and many are price-

Every possible precaution is taken to guard these treasures. The books are kept in strongly locked cases, from which they are never removed except by officials of the reading-

Whiskers Highly Prized

Of all the countries in the world, Spain is about the most curlous as regards whiskers. There were times when the loss of whiskers in that country meant the loss of honor. It was the same in Portugal. During the reign of Queen Catherine, John de Castro once gave a hair from his whiskers as security for a large loan, explaining: "All the gold in the world cannot equal the value of this natural ornament of my valor; and I deposit it in your hands as security for the money."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Think Better Under Strain

Your easygoing, pleasant fellow isn't going to get there as fast as the man who grits his teeth, knits his brows and holds his muscles tense, says Popular Science Monthly. A series of psychological tests recently was tried on persons while they were gripping a dynamometer, a pair of hand grips with meter attached, and then repeated while the subjects were sitting in relaxed positions. The results showed that persons can think much better and faster when their muscles are under tension.
